800 MILLION TO BE SPENT FOR SEAWAY

Pact Provides for Action

Canadian Parliament And
U. S. Senate Sanction
Only Action Necessary

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(UP)—A treaty providing for action by the United States and Canada to engage in the outstanding engineering project of modern times—an $800,000,000 St. Lawrence waterway linking the heart of the American continent with sea-going European traffic—was signed here today by representatives of the two countries.

Secretary of State Stimson signed the treaty in behalf of the United States and Minister William D. Harridge for Canada.

The treaty will be the subject of Senate hearings at which Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, may testify regarding New York States' part in the giant project.

The Senate and the Canadian Parliament must approve the treaty before it becomes effective.

The project calls for the construction of a seaway 27 feet deep to connect the Atlantic ocean through the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence river with the vast grain and oil producing sections of the American and Canadian mid-west.

Under the treaty the two governments will spend $543,429,000 in completing the waterway. Its total cost, including past work, is unofficially estimated at $800,000,000.

Two large dams, capable of developing 1,100,000 horsepower to light farms and cities and turn the wheels of hundreds of factories, are envisaged in the project.

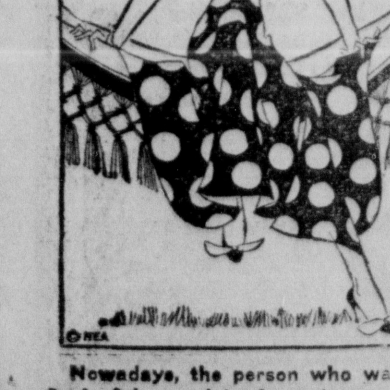

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—(UP)—Florence Ziegfeld, New York theatrical producer, was seriously ill today in Cedars of Lebanon hospital, where he was rushed from the New Mexico sanatorium at which he had been receiving treatment.

His wife, Billie Burke, actress, expressed concern over Ziegfeld's health, and physicians said his condition was "very serious but not critical."

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

CONFERENCE ON DISARMAMENT PREPARES TO ADJOURN TODAY

PRESIDENT TO SIGN RELIEF BILL TUESDAY

Home Loan Bank Measure to Be Signed at Same Time by Hoover

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(UP)—President Hoover is acting quickly to put in effect the giant relief measures enacted in the closing hours of the congressional session.

The president announced he would sign Tuesday the $2,122,000,000 unemployment aid measure. He hailed it as "a strong step toward recovery." He said the provision for reconstruction corporation loans of $1,500,000,000 for revenue producing public construction should ultimately provide work "for hundreds of thousands of people without drain on the taxpayer."

Mr. Hoover also will sign the home loan bank measure setting up a system of discount banks to aid the hardpressed home owner who finds it difficult to meet mortgage payments these days.

This measure carries a rider authorizing a possible expansion of $995,000,000 in the nation's currency. The administration opposed this feature, but Mr. Hoover will sign the bill nevertheless. He has asked Comptroller of the Currency Pole for an opinion on the bill and is expected to use this as a basis for a statement minimizing the effects of the currency authorization.

The president's statement on the unemployment relief program was issued through the White House while Mr. Hoover rested at his Rapidan camp. He returned there Sunday morning and expected to return late today or early Tuesday.

Mr. Hoover summed up the benefits of the relief bill thus:

"First—Through provision of $300,000,000 of temporary loan the states are as absolutely unable to finance the relief of distress, we have a solid back log of assurance that there need be no hunger and cold in the United States. These loans are to be based upon absolute need and evidence of financial exhaustion. I do not expect any state to resort to it except as a last resort."

"Second—Through the provision for $1,500,000,000 of loans for the reconstruction corporation for re-productive construction work of public character on terms which will be repaid we should ultimately be able to find employment for hundreds of thousands of people without drain on the taxpayer."

"Third—Through the broadening of the powers of the corporation in the character of the loans it can make to assist agriculture, we should materially improve the position of the farmers."

'MA' KENNEDY WILL ASK FOR DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—(UP)—The much publicized romance of Mrs. Minnie "Ma" Kennedy-Hudson, mother of Mrs. Alcee Semple McPherson-Hutton and former Angelus Temple official, with Guy Edward "What-a-Man" Hudson appeared to have ended definitely today.

After having apparently been reconciled with "What-a-Man" after recently declaring she was "through" because of Hudson's economic difficulties, "Ma" was quoted today as saying she had decided to get a divorce.

Lad Is Knocked From Tree With Baseball

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—(UP)—The next time Teodoro Ochoa wants to see a baseball game he will seek a place where it is easy to dodge high speed balls.

He climbed a tree in Hollenbeck park to witness a sand lot ball game. The batter hit a Babe Ruth clout which should have been a home run, but which struck Ochoa in the nose and knocked him out of the tree.

He was treated at Emergency hospital for a broken nose and sprained shoulder.

NEXT MOVE OF BONUS ARMY IS UP TO LEADERS

Thousands of Veterans in Washington Not Planning to Break-Up

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(UP)—Thousands of bewildered World War veterans idled in their camps today, waiting anxiously for leaders to advance some new means of furthering the campaign for payment of the bonus.

The bonus army's last hopes of early victory dissolved when congress adjourned Saturday night, not to return until December. But there were no indications of any break-up of the army's forces. The men have another week to take advantage of the government's loans to transport them home.

"Let's see it out now that we're here" was the attitude of most of the men who have been living for weeks in smelly shelters and eating little but coarse beans and cracked wheat porridge.

"We have just begun to fight," declared Walter W. Waters of Oregon, commander of the main bonus force. "We are going to (Continued on Page 2)

URGES PUBLIC REGULATION OF POWER FIRMS

Federal Commission Finds
Move Is Essential to Public Interest

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(UP)—Public regulation of power companies and their operating subsidiaries is "absolutely essential in the public interest," the federal power commission declared today.

The conclusion was contained in a summary of the commission's report of a year's investigation of hydro-electric interests. Licensed under the federal water power act. The report itself is to be published soon.

The commission recommended additional legislation placing holding companies in the power utility field under rigid government control, with provision for supervision of securities issued to the general public.

Of the 19 companies making returns in the investigation, the 10 top companies control 48 projects under license to public utilities serving 12,487 communities with a population of more than 42,000,000, the summary showed.

The commission pointed out the ramification of control of the holding companies, showing how different groups had overlapping directorships.

"The federal power commission from this study and its administrative experience is convinced that public control of holding companies in the power utility field is absolutely essential in the public interest," the summary said.

"In its judgment such control to be adequate would include in its scope the service organizations of the holding companies, with supervision of all contracts between holding companies and their operating companies, and would include regulation of accounts with requirements providing specifically for the filing of financial and other reports on prescribed forms with full publicity."

Proposals Conspicuous By Absence

Three Major Nations Agree to Armament Truce Extension Nov. 1.

GENEVA, July 18.—(UP)—The world disarmament conference, the hope of peace lovers for world peace, prepared to adjourn today with praise for certain proposals, but with no definite recommendations, the climax of months of discussion and disagreement.

The American, British and Italian delegates, did however, agree to extend the armament truce suggested by the latter beyond November 1.

The preliminary agreement was expected to prohibit aerial bombing of civilians, and to abolish poison and bacteriological gas warfare and tanks over 20 tons.

The American and British delegates decided to ask the French to accept modified American plans for limitation of armed effectiveness and other American proposals already accepted by the British. The attitude of the French was expected to determine the success or failure of the draft disarmament resolution.

The skeleton of the agreement, replacing the plan of Edouard Beneš who failed to mention salient points of the Hoover plan, included:

1.—A long preamble praising the Hoover plan as an aid to consolidating peace.

2.—Suggestions, but no decisions, regarding where results might be achieved in disarmament.

3.—A statement pointing out that the suggestions, which will include the American plan for limitation of effectiveness, are merely the first stage of disarmament.

4.—The method to be adopted by the steering committee when resumption of the conference is arranged.

5.—Extension of the armaments truce.

The American delegation, having no minimum figure on which the draft resolution could be accepted, believed it would be fortunate if an agreement was obtained on part of the effectiveness plan.

DEATH CALLS DALE R. KING FRUIT MANAGER

Funeral Services Held
At Fullerton Church
Tuesday Afternoon

DALE R. KING, assistant general manager of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, and one of the best known men in the citrus industry in California, died at his home in Fullerton at 9:30 p. m. Sunday, after an illness of more than six months.

Funeral services will be held at the First Christian church at 2 p. m. Tuesday, with the Rev. George Tinsley officiating. Interment will be private.

Mr. King first entered the citrus exchange when 20 years of age, and as manager of the San Francisco office three years later was the youngest manager of the 72 offices of the organization. On December 1, 1931, he became assistant general manager of the California Fruit Growers' exchange. He became ill on January 11, 1932, missed a first day at the office in 28 years of service and had not returned to work since.

Born in Knightstown, Ind., March 26, 1887, he entered work with the exchange in the Chicago office in 1907. Six months later he was transferred to the San Francisco office as assistant district manager and three years later became manager of that office.

In 1917 he opened the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange office in Fullerton, where he remained until 1931.

In 1909 he was married to Vie Barnes, of Indianapolis, Ind. Besides his wife, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ella M. King, who makes her home in Fullerton with the son and family, and by two daughters, Jean, 19, and Lois, 14, and by four sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Hal P. Fudge, Vincent, Ind.; Mrs. Frank M. Miller, Indianapolis; Mrs. Mamie S. Bates, Richmond, Va.; Alpha Goldsmith, Fullerton; Berg A. King, Indianapolis; Russell H. King, San Francisco; and Robert R. King, San Dimas.

Mr. King had been connected with all civic improvement movements while residing in Fullerton. He had served for the past two years as president of the board of the Christian church; had been president of both the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis club and had been lieutenant governor of the Kiwanis club.

His service on the Northern Orange county Y. M. C. A. board had extended over a long period of years.

112 Communists Stricken At Convention

MASSILON, O., July 18.—(UP)—The state Communist convention was brought to a gloomy end today as 112 of the delegates and visitors lay in hospitals suffering from ptomaine poisoning.

They were stricken after a venison Sunday at the convention swung into its final session. Within a few minutes, the hall was a scene of wild confusion as 200 of the delegates collapsed in pain. Calls were sent out for all physicians and nurses in the district and 22 doctors and 35 nurses responded. Victims were wrapped in blankets and laid on the city hall lawn until they could be taken to hospitals.

DEATH BLOW TO CAPONE CRIME GANG PLANNED

Two Year Probe By Prohibition Department Is Placed on File

CHICAGO, July 18.—(UP)—The United States government is ready to deal the death blow to the Al Capone crime syndicate.

A two-year investigation by the office of the prohibition department, the Chicago Secret Six, and the Chicago police department has culminated in a 50-page report to the United States attorney general, the United Press learned today, revealing additional evidence against the gang and showing its tremendous scope through the nation.

The report is designed to bolster former indictments against the gang leader which have been on file since before he was convicted of income tax evasion and probably will find its way before the federal grand jury for possible indictments at its next session here.

The report reveals Capone's amazing hold on the nation's liquor traffic. Two hundred persons are named as having been connected with the syndicate, which operated virtually unhampered until the government ran the gang to cover through its pocketbook by convictions of gangsters for evasion of income tax. The investigation, headed by W. E. Ben-

JUDGE RESTRAINED BY APPEAL COURT

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—(UP)—A peremptory writ of prohibition restraining Superior Judge Guy F. Bush from sentencing Hulett C. Merritt Jr., member of a wealthy and socially prominent Pasadena family, to jail for contempt for failure to pay alimony arrears to his former wife, Mrs. Lou Merritt, was issued today by the district court of appeal.

The writ was issued on request of Attorney Paul Schenck, representing Judge Bush. The jurist admitted that the record is insufficient to support the contempt order.

Mrs. Merritt, who obtained a divorce in 1926, claimed that her former husband was $27,850 in arrears in alimony payments. Merritt claimed that he was earning only $500 a month as an employee of the Tagus Ranch company, and is no longer able to keep up the alimony payments, set at the time of the divorce at $750 a month.

POLITICAL TERRORISM MUST CEASE

Cabinet Forbids Outdoor Demonstrations After Week End of Bloodshed

TWENTY ARE KILLED

Adolph Hitler Confers with
Von Hindenburg; Claim
Ultimatum Is Issued

BERLIN, July 18.—(UP)—Political terrorism flamed through Germany today and the government took drastic steps to put down disorder after a week end in which probably 20 or more dead and dozens wounded were added to the heavy casualties of the last few weeks.

After an emergency cabinet meeting, outdoor demonstrations were forbidden throughout the Reich in an order by Baron Wilhelm Von Gayl, minister of the interior.

Proclamation of a state of siege or martial law was discussed, but the cabinet was reluctant to take such a step. As an alternative, it was proposed that the federal government take over police functions in Prussia. That would give the Reich control of the 90,000 Prussian police, largest armed force in Germany outside the regular army, and would abolish states' rights for a territory comprising two-thirds of Germany.

Prohibition of outdoor demonstrations merely was the first step in the government's preventive measures. It also was planned to decree the death penalty on persons caught with weapons in their hands or stealing explosives. However, they would be prosecuted in the ordinary law courts. Minor decrees declining to enforce martial law.

The widespread disorders of the week end continued today, although not in such violent form. At Naumburg, near Leipzig, eight Reichsbanner men were injured in a fight with Nazis who demolished the local workers' gymnasium. Minor disorders occurred in Munich, and at Kempten anti-Fascists vainly tried to halt a Nazi parade with barricades. At Poesing, Nazis stormed a beer cellar, headquarters of the local Republican Reichsbanner, and several were slightly injured.

Although the report was denied, it was established that Adolph Hitler, the Fascist chief, went to Neudeck to confer with President Paul von Hindenburg. Reliable Nazi sources said Hitler intends to give Hindenburg an "ultimatum" threatening to arm the Fascist "brown shirts" unless the government proclaims a national state of emergency and grants executive power to Gen. Kurt Von Schleicher, defense minister—the real power in the present government—who has a working agreement with the Hindenburg. Hitler wants him made interior minister, replacing Von Gayl, with power to name the generals commanding the army corps as federal commissioners with complete power, so the country would be under a virtual military dictatorship and the police under army control.

WILL ROGERS says:

EAST BAKERSFIELD, Cal., July 18.—(To the Editor of The Register.) Was up to Stanford Saturday to see the American athletes try out for the Olympic Games. Talk about different nations competing; say, they were competing there the white race against the colored. Why, all you had to do there to win a race or a jump was just have a dark complexion and show up as a competitor. In fact I got to believing that I could "black up" and go in there and win something myself. Talk about the Fins running, you watch Booker T. Washington's boys.

I never saw a country as happy as the United States was yesterday when they read Congress would adjourn. People just felt that the depression couldn't end till those birds quit appropriating and got home.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

A WORD OF COMFORT

The mechanistic theory of the universe is rapidly becoming outworn in science and philosophy. The notion that man is merely a product of nature proves increasingly inadequate to explain the ideals of truth, goodness, beauty, and love.

Thoughtful men in every walk of life are driven to assume that God has His part in creating and in sustaining the universe.

Therefore you are not peculiar in believing that God loves you and your dearest one so much that He will sustain you both as you live under His loving guidance until you are together again in Paradise forever.

HOLD INQUEST INTO GIRL'S DEATH TODAY

Inquest into the death of Louise Diaz, 18-year-old San Clemente girl, who died in the San Clemente hospital Saturday morning was to be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Roy Rival funeral parlors at San Clemente.

Death resulted from a fracture of the skull, after a car in which she was riding overturned near San Clemente on May 26. She had been at the point of death for several days.

SIX NEW DENTISTS IN ORANGE COUNTY

Six Orange county residents are included in the group of 88 new dentists now authorized to practice in the state as a result of examinations held a month ago by the state board of dental examiners, it was announced today.

Those who passed the examination are Ronald Buell and Vivian L. Herr, Santa Ana; Clarence E. Hoar, Orange; and Charles F. Rapp, Robert H. Davis and Lloyd Erickson, Fullerton.

Hollywood is seven miles northwest of the business section of Los Angeles.

ORANGE COUNTY GETS SHARE OF STATE MONEY

The coffers of Orange county were enriched today by $74,145 when County Auditor William Lambert received checks for the county's share of the state gasoline tax and transportation or bus tax.

Orange county received $70,019.79 as its share of the state gasoline tax for the last quarter of the fiscal year, which ended June 30, 1932. The balance was for transportation tax.

The income to Orange county from July 1, 1931, to June 30, 1932, amounted to $335,731.94 from state tax money. The county received $79,185.18 from state vehicle taxes, $244,861.52 from state vehicle fuel taxes and $12,655.24 for state transportation taxes.

Various cities in Orange county, including Santa Ana, have demanded a division of the state gas money to the cities, to the tune of more than $97,000. Santa Ana formally demanded of the board of supervisors that the city get $52,000 as its share of the gas tax money. The supervisors have taken no action on the requests or demands officially but told representatives of the various cities through Chairman John Mitchell that the requests would be refused.

The apportionment of $2,974,465.41 which goes to the 55 counties in the state, represents an increase of six per cent over the amount distributed to counties the first quarter of the year, according to Ray L. Riley, state controller. The gasoline tax for the period amounted to $8,923,396.23 for the state. The counties get one-third.

The remainder of the tax collection goes to the state division of highways. Of this amount, one-half is used for the construction of new highways and the other half is devoted to the maintenance of existing roads.

NINE INJURED IN CAR WRECKS OVER WEEK END

Nine persons were reported injured, none fatally in a series of six automobile crashes reported in the county over the week end.

The small number of accidents is regarded as a compliment to the California highway patrol, which handled thousands of cars in unusually heavy traffic in and near Newport Beach Saturday night during the staging of the annual Tournament of Lights. Santa Ana motorcycle officers and other motorcycle officers from incorporated cities in the county assisted Newport Beach officers.

Two youths, P. E. Phillips, of the U. S. S. New York, at San Diego, and Joseph Bandi, 21, of Crescent avenue, San Diego, were injured at 11:45 a. m. yesterday at the intersection of Chapman and Euclid avenues, when the motorcycle on which they were riding struck a street button.

Both tires were blown out and the youths thrown to the pavement. Bandi suffered a broken arm and Phillips' right leg was broken. They were taken to the Orange county hospital. California highway patrol officers said the youths attempted to go around a car on the road, which caused their motorcycle to strike the button.

Mrs. M. R. Harrison, of 602 1-2 North Los Angeles street, Anaheim, was injured yesterday when cars driven by Harold C. Berger, of Route No. 4, Anaheim, and John D. Stall of 2326 Thirtieth street, San Diego, collided at Haster avenue and Katella road, according to a report filed with the California Highway Patrol.

A complaint charging failure to stop and render aid was issued today against D. Bates, Santa Ana man with business at 311 West Fourth street, following an automobile accident at 9:30 o'clock Saturday night at Newhope and Garden Grove roads.

His car is said to have crashed into David Drake, former Orange resident, who was standing beside a parked car at the time. Drake was taken to the Orange county hospital where it is said his injuries are not of a serious nature.

Bates made a report of the accident to the sheriff's office. Anaheim Men Hunt

John Eaton, and James Kelsay, of Anaheim, were severely cut and bruised when the car in which they were riding, driven by Kelsay, who lives at 312 East Sycamore street, collided with a car driven by Bill Ballenger, of the U. S. S. Cincinnati, at San Diego.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Ball road and Palm street.

Sidney S. Doner, of East La Veta street, Orange, suffered severe cuts on his head and legs when his machine collided with one driven by E. W. Raley, of 333 North Cambridge street, at the intersection of Palmyra and Cambridge street at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night.

WILL CONDUCT EVANGELISTIC SERVICES HERE

Beginning a series of revival meetings which will be conducted every night at 7:30 o'clock at the Four Square Gospel church, corner of Fairview and Sycamore streets, Mrs. D. F. Myers, co-pastor of the church, delivered her first sermon at the church last night. The Rev. Myers spoke in the morning.

The subject of the address last night was "Entering the Kingdom of God." "Many messages have been preached by the disciples of old, but the message that stirred the heart of John the Baptist as he stood in the wilderness was that message that should be upon the lips of every minister of the Gospel today," she said. "John did not preach modernism, nor did he preach atheism, but he preached a Gospel that caused men and women to cry out to God for their sin and repent and turn right about face, forsaking the life they used to live and live a life unto the Lord. Men and Women came from all parts of the country to hear God's messenger and many believed and received the word."

"Peter did not preach a Gospel that would tickle the ears of men, but after he had received that wonderful experience on the day of Pentecost, and his soul was filled with God, the message that came from his heart was that message of repentance, for He said to that vast audience, 'Repent.' What was it he said? Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins and ye shall receive the Holy Ghost and my friends when Peter preached that sermon men and women were so pricked in their hearts because of sin, that 3000 were converted in one day."

"I firmly believe, that when the ministers get back to the old time Gospel, the old time message, as did the disciples of old, that they'll see men and women really and soundly converted, and not only converted, but their lives will be transformed.

"Jesus himself, preached the Gospel of Repentance and a change of heart, for when Nicodemus came unto Christ, he told Christ how good he was, how wonderful he was, but Jesus turned to Nicodemus as though he never heard the rest of what he said, and said, 'Nicodemus, listen, except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Friends, that is the word of Jesus, if you are not really saved, no matter what good things you may do, you never will enter into the Kingdom of God.'

"Born again, I'm sure there are those who are saying tonight, 'How can I be born again? What must I do to be born again? How can I receive that experience? And when will I know? Will I have that assurance in my heart when the transaction takes place. Yes, blessed God, my friend you will say with Paul, I know in whom I have believed, I know that He has redeemed me, your experience will be so real and the burdens of sin will roll off your soul like a heavy weight and you will be able to lift up your case and say, Jesus, I know you have redeemed me and I'm your child, saved through your blood.'

"So many are waiting until after death to be sure they're saved, but I'm afraid it will be too late then, for God's word says Now is the accepted time, now is the day of salvation. The great call has gone out from the Master's lips, come, come, you that are sick, come, come, sinners, come weary and Christ will give you rest."

"There is only one thing we must do to be saved and that is to seek the Savior. For God's word tells us, That day ye seek me, with your whole heart, I shall be found of thee. Yes, you must seek Him, with your whole heart, when a man will do that I'll guarantee him that he will find Christ as his personal Savior."

"What is it that separates man from God? It is one word, Sin. Sin, what an awful thing that word is. It has broken many a heart, separated homes, damned many souls and separated man from God. It was sin that caused our Savior to come to earth. We read that the blood of Jesus will cleanse us from all sin. Sin reminds me so much of cancer, for it eats and eats until one's soul has been destroyed. The only remedy for sin, is the Blood of Christ.

"What must we do to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven? My friends, you must be born into the family of God. We can only enter unto Heaven through the second birth.

"To be born again is not joining some church, not being baptized into the church, not trying to do the best you can, nor turning over a new leaf, but it is God's life coming into your soul, changing natural man into the spiritual."

MANSLAUGHTER TRIAL BEGINS BEFORE JURY

The case of Louis Youngchild, aged Anaheim man, who is charged with two separate counts of manslaughter in connection with the deaths of two Corona youths as a result of an accident involving his car and a motorcycle the Corona youths were riding, which occurred at the corner of Magnolia 30, was well under way in superior court today after a jury of three women and nine men had been selected to try the case.

Youngchild allegedly failed to hold up his hand or indicate that he was going to turn when the youths crashed into his car.

The case is being tried under Judge G. K. Scovel, with Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe handling the prosecution.

PROUD DAD AT 72

WINDSOR, Ont.—Frank Winters, 72-year-old carpenter, stepped up to the city clerk's desk "I want to make application for my old age pension." "I qualified three years ago," the clerk made the necessary entries. "Now that's over," Winters continued, flashing a proud smile, "I want to register the birth today of my fourth child."

TWO NORFOLK BOYS DROWNED AT BEACH CITY

Tragedy rode the waves at Huntington Beach over the week end, two boys from Norfolk losing their lives while swimming in the water a half mile east of the city limits.

The body of one of the boys, Johnnie Rehal, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rehal, Norfolk, Route No. 1, was found floating in the water at Thirty-eighth street, three miles west of the place where they were in swimming, at 5:10 a. m., today by M. Zamora, of Santa Monica.

Search was redoubled today for the body of Johnnie's brother, Frank, 17.

The boys were last seen at 5:10 p. m., Saturday. The anxious parents asked for the aid of police in searching for their boys, hoping against hope that they had merely gone away as a lark and would be back later.

The district where the boys were swimming is without life guard protection and apparently no one saw the boys as they struggled against death. Whether the boys were dragged down by a ripe tide, or whether one of the boys was seized with cramps and the other attempted to save him, will never be known. Neither boy was particularly adept at swimming, according to police.

The body was removed to the Dixon Funeral parlors in Huntington Beach. Time for an inquest was delayed by Coroner Earl Abbey pending the finding of the body of Frank Rehal.

Police, life guards and citizens were patrolling the beach today in the search for the body of the boy, the belief being expressed that the body would float to shore some time today or tomorrow.

Bunker Services Will Be Tuesday

Services for John E. Bunker, former resident of Santa Ana, who passed away Saturday of heart trouble in Monrovia, will be held in the Smith and Tutill Funeral home tomorrow at 2 p. m. with the Rev. Mr. Stewart of Monrovia Presbyterian church officiating, assisted by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland of Santa Ana.

Mr. Bunker came to Santa Ana in the fall of 1892 and lived here until he moved to Monrovia in 1905. While here he was a prominent member of the First Presbyterian church, continuing his church work while in Monrovia.

Eggs are now being preserved by treating them with carbon dioxide and nitrogen. This treatment is said to preserve eggs for a year.

WALNUT CROP ESTIMATED AT 43,000 TONS

The July estimate of the California walnut crop for this season is 43,000 tons, according to latest figures received by the farm adviser's office from the state crop reporting service. All walnut sections report the crop in good condition. Orange county prospects for a large crop of quality nuts are very good at this time. The state crop for last year amounted to 29,000 tons; in 1930 the total was 30,000 tons; and in 1929, 29,000 tons.

The returns for walnuts this year will be gauged more than ever on quality. And proper irrigation practice in walnut orchards, particularly at this time of the year, is one of the important factors in producing quality walnuts. Farm Adviser Wahlberg said today. In order to assist growers to ascertain present moisture conditions in the walnut orchard, Wahlberg has arranged a walnut growers' tour for tomorrow to visit several typical orchards and make moisture observations to a depth of 10 feet.

Record Breaking Crowd Enjoys Brilliant Harbor Fete

SWEEPSTAKES PRIZE AWARDED TO SANTA ANA

GRAND SWEEPSTAKES WINNER

Appearing on the float which won the grand prize at the Tournament of Lights at Balboa Saturday night were Miss Raquel Buenavista and Miss Felicitas Alcantar of Orange; Miss Josefina Salis of Delhi and Gilbert Gonzales of Santa Ana, singers; Abel Ventura, Pedro Ruiz and Serafin Sanchez of El Modena; Juan Serrano, Ysais Granados, Esteban Rodriguez and Gildardo Gomez of Santa Ana, and Ricardo Duran of Westminster, musicians. Sol Gonzales, violinist of this city, was leader and director of the group. Gonzales entered the float in the parade and the designer was Enrique Lobo. One of the lovely old Spanish shawls used on the float had been in the Gonzales family for more than 150 years, and one of the shawls owned by Mrs. Gonzales was hand-embroidered in Mexico many years ago. Pottery was from Mexico.

Record-breaking crowd, estimated at approximately 10,000 persons, lined the shores of Newport Bay, Lido and Palms islands and the highlands adjoining Saturday night to watch the brilliant and spectacular water carnival and parade, known as the Tournament of Lights, which is recognized as one of the outstanding events of Southern California.

Scene of handily decorated and well-lighted floats took part in the water parade which moved slowly past the cheering thousands, and a Santa Ana float, entered by Sol Gonzales, of Santa Ana, and representing "Mexico", one of the nations in the Olympics, easily walked away with first honors, according to the applause which swept the crowds all along the five mile route, and the decision of the judges in awarding it the grand sweepstakes prize.

The Santa Ana Legion drum corps, also won honors in the tournament, coming home with the first place in the musical organization class, and the entry of the Champion camp, Spanish American War Veterans, displaying a camp scene and presenting the camp's drum corps, won second prize in the private float class. They were entered by A. H. Hall, of Santa Ana. Third place in the musical organization class went to another Santa Ana entry, that of the American Legion band.

Great Success
As a result of special efforts on the part of those in charge of the event, the 1932 parade is expected to stand out as a successful antidote "for that depressed feeling" and a record breaking crowd was on hand, as well as providing the largest number of civic and other large entries, in the 14 years of the event.

The "Mexico" float was a Spanish style house built with real red tile and stucco, a stair and balcony, with señoritas singing in the balcony and gay caballeros playing below. There was no doubt that it was the biggest attraction among a host of fine attractions in the big illuminated parade of water craft.

Harbor leaders today gave considerable credit for the fine showing made to the enlarged interest taken in the event this year by Orange county communities and organizations.

Anaheim Entry
Anahiem, capturing second place in the civic division, had a novel entry which portrayed Uncle Sam sawing wood, the stick of wood being labeled "Depression" and the float entitled "Cutting It Short." It was stated today that in future years there may be a division of mechanically operated floats in the parade, and that Anaheim's entry with Uncle Sam's arms working the saw back and forth would have easily walked off with first place in such a division.

The Pasadena Chamber of Commerce won first honors in the civic division, presenting a gorgeously decorated float depicting the Tournament of Roses. This float was awarded special mention as the most artistic creation in the entire parade.

The Long Beach Chamber of Commerce took first prize in its class, that of depicting an Olympic Games motif. This float in featuring the Olympic motif showed a young athlete standing before a huge sunburst, holding a green garland in his hand, while a coxswain in the foreground was directing two oarsmen. Sixteen nations were represented by living models ranged around the scene.

Newport Boy Scouts were second in this division and Newport Harbor Yacht club was third.

Other County Winners

The West Newport Yacht club also carried a fine Olympic motif, but was entered in the Organization floats division, where it won first place.

The Newport Harbor Service club, on their float depicting "Life in Tahiti," which won second place in the Organizations division, paid special tribute to a former chairman of the Tournament of Lights committee, H. L. Sherman, and also to A. B. Rousseau and City Engineer E. L. Harrison, who were scheduled to land in Tahiti Saturday.

Laguna Beach, whose entry won third place in the civic entries, showed an Olympic winner posed before one of her own artists, while in the background she announced the Beach Festival of Arts being held in that city, starting August 13.

The Newport fire department also presented a spectacular scene, "Fighting Fires in George Washington's Time"; the scene being an old fashioned pumper throwing water on the front of a colonial house which was on fire.

The Corona del Mar float, with a "Crown of the Sea" idea, received much praise and won third place in the Organizations division, although due to float trouble it did not finish the entire parade route.

New Route Aids

Owing to the longer route and the routing of the parade in the opposite direction from former years, it was estimated that thousands more than ever before witnessed the spectacle, in spite of the fact that the traffic congestion was not nearly as serious as during the last two or three years.

The City of Newport Beach entered one of the finest floats in the parade, depicting Olympic Games, although it was not placed in competition against other cities. However, a special award will be made, it was stated by H. H. Williamson, chairman of the Lights committee of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, and J. A. Beck, chairman of the judging committee. This float had a background showing the scene of the first Olympics in Greece, and some Newport Harbor high school youths engaged in real tumbling, lifting and other athletics.

Shouts of light thrown from searchlight batteries from Fort McArthur which were stationed around the bay at convenient points, shot their beams into the sky or swept the line of parade or picked out the Goodyear blimp "Volunteer," which floated above.

THIEVES STEAL MANY CHICKENS OVER WEEK END

Chicken thieves were reported in three different sections of Orange county over the week end.

Fifty chickens were removed from the pens of Mrs. B. Cox, who resides on Claire street, west of Stanton, some time last night.

Mrs. Rachel Maurice, resident of Wright street, southeast of Santa Ana, reported that 25 chickens were stolen from her pens some time after 4:30 p. m. yesterday.

Thieves worked in the day time to rob the pens of David Garner, who lives on Palm street between Chapman avenue and Katella road. At 11 o'clock yesterday two men in a light truck drove up to the pens. Mrs. Garner was at home at the time, alone. One of the men rang the front door bell, but Mrs. Garner did not answer. They then went to the pens. Mrs. Garner ran to a neighbor's home and summoned Mrs. Henry Luther and her son. When they returned the men were leaving. The number of their truck was taken, but no report was made as to how many chickens were stolen.

HEARING ON SCHOOL BUDGET HERE TUESDAY

Residents of Santa Ana will have an opportunity to protest any parts of the proposed school budget hearing which will be held, in accordance with state law, in the school Administration building tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock.

The budget has been printed and is available to the public. The total budget includes the budgets of the high school district, elementary school district and junior college district for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

These budgets show a reduction of proposed expenditures for 1932-1933 over actual expenditures of 1931-1932 of $266,511.50. The reduction consists of a reduction in major capital expenditures amounting to $87,364.91, reduction in junior college rent of $19,590, and a reduction of $159,556.59 in operating expenses. The proposed reduction of 35 cents in the operating rate together with the proposed reduction of 40 cents in the elementary bond rate makes a total possible reduction of 75 cents or about 30 per cent on the 1931-1932 rate of $2.43.

The estimated income, or receipts, of the local districts is set at $843,496.91 less transfers amounting to $17,996, while the proposed expenditures amount to $817,742.86.

ORCHARDISTS TO MAKE TEST TOUR TUESDAY

Several orchards will be visited and soil moisture tests made during the walnut growers tour to be held tomorrow afternoon for Orange county growers under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension service and the walnut department of the Farm Bureau.

At this time of the year much importance is attached to the presence of sufficient soil moisture to fill the nuts and assure good quality. Test holes 10 feet deep will be made by Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg to note moisture conditions in the different soil strata.

The tour will start at John Adams' walnut orchard on North Little Main street, near the Santa Fe tracks, about one mile west and one mile north of Orange.

Thinning and spraying of trees to provide more light and better production of fruit will also be demonstrated at two stops during the afternoon tour. The caravan will end up at the Irvine ranch to observe the method of controlling Melanoma or black sap on walnut trees.

All growers are invited to attend, according to Wahlberg.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor, Register, Santa Ana, Calif.

Referring to numerous communications in the "Public Forum" regarding distribution of the gasoline tax and especially to the letter of J. L. McBride of the city council of Santa Ana in which he says there are 1000 miles of highways outside the incorporated cities and 500 miles inside the cities of Orange county.

If 1-3 of our paved highways are within cities and 2-3 outside the incorporated cities how can cities in fairness and justice to every taxpayer in this county expect more than 1-3 of the gasoline tax money? Suppose that 70 per cent of the cars are owned by people residing within the cities, that is no argument whatsoever that 70 per cent of the gasoline tax should be paid to the cities. What difference does it make just where a car happens to be stored? Does it not cost as much to build and maintain a mile of highway outside the cities as it does inside and are not the streets and highways for the benefit of all who care to use them?

The pamphlet that accompanied our 1931-32 tax notice contained 28 separate road improvement districts in the county with rates ranging as high as $4 per hundred of assessed valuation, and this list does not include the other county road improvement districts which were put through under some other act, and besides there was an additional 40 per cent road tax added to all property in the county outside of the incorporated cities. I mention this to show you that our county roads are not entirely built from the gasoline tax.

I do believe the cities are entitled to a share of the gasoline tax but no city is entitled to any more of this fund than the number of miles of paved streets within that city bears to the total mileage of paved highway both inside and outside of the cities of Orange county. I think that would be fair, just and equitable distribution of the gasoline tax fund.

Yours truly,

S. W. SWANSON,

Editor of The Register:—In order that the taxpayer public may be fully informed on the Santa Ana school budget before the public hearing scheduled for next Tuesday evening, I should like to make a few comments and comparisons regarding Santa Ana school costs.

Mr. Goble in his timely article, published Wednesday evening, brings out the fact that the Santa Ana schools expended during the school year 1926-27 $681,911.20 and propose to expend during the school year 1932-33 $817,742.86, an increase of $135,831.66 or approximately 20 per cent over the 1926-27 expenditures.

The figures are substantially correct, however, the 1926-27 expenditures educated only 5206 pupils, whereas the 1932-33 budget will educate 6663 pupils, an increase in attendance of 28 per cent compared to an increase in expenditures of only 20 per cent.

The unit of production is always the basis for comparing costs, whether it be automobiles produced, yards of concrete laid or pupils educated. A manufacturer could not reasonably be expected to produce 6600 automobiles for the cost of 5200 nor should the Santa Ana board of education be expected to reduce expenditures to the 1926-27 level without also reducing the number of pupils to the figure of that year.

Thus it is that the cost per pupil is generally accepted as the basis for comparing school costs and a comparison of costs per pupil for the two periods shows that $121.01 was spent for every pupil in the Santa Ana schools for 1926-27 and only $122.73 for the year 1932-33 a decrease of 61-3 per cent.

Of more interest, perhaps, to the average taxpayer than costs and attendance figures, is the amount he will be called upon to pay for the support of the schools. The proposed Santa Ana school tax rate for 1932-33 shows an increase of only five or three per cent over that of 1926-27 and considering the 10 per cent cut in assessed valuation last year a given piece of property will pay seven per cent less for the support of Santa Ana schools in 1932-33 than in 1926-27.

With a 61-3 per cent decrease in 1932-33 cost per pupil over 1926-27 and a seven per cent lower tax bill I believe Mr. Goble's question, "As to whether or not our school costs could be returned to the 1927 figures," has been answered insofar as Santa Ana is concerned.

An interesting phase of the 1932-33 budget is that $82,538.33 or 69 per cent of the $118,581.66 increase occurs in the junior college district where the attendance has increased from 230 in 1926-27 to 653 in 1932-33. Also, in the 1926-27 figures capital expenditures were eliminated where as the 1932-33 figures include $15,000 of capital expenditures, leaving a net increase in high school and elementary expenditures of only $68,293.73 or less than six per cent compared to a 21 per cent increase in attendance for these same districts.

Articles such as have recently appeared in your paper should help considerably to educate the public to take a greater interest in so important a public matter as budget making, particularly the school budget, which is the most influential factor in education and it has been said that more money is spent for education, more people are affected, directly or indirectly, by it than in any other undertaking of a public character.

Budget making is a never ending function, as soon as the budget for the next succeeding school year has been adopted preparation for that of the following year must be started. If, through the columns of your paper, interest in the next budget could be aroused it would be far easier for a superintendent and board of education to produce a budget satisfactory to all.

DETAILS OF SCRIP PLAN OPERATED BY MERCHANTS OF ORANGE ARE ANNOUNCED

A plan to ease the credit situation and provide a local medium of exchange, which has been in operation in Orange since June 1, seems to be meeting increasing success, it is indicated by a growing list of firms and individuals using the new plan, which calls for the use of a scrip issued by a central committee, known as the Orange Merchants Cooperative Scrip association, and good at places of business subscribing to the plan.

Originally started by a small group of merchants who felt the need for some way to thaw "frozen" accounts and provide an additional medium of exchange, the association now includes a group of 11 well known leaders in the community who are acting as the guarantors of the scrip and who may eventually realize some profit from the venture, and a list of some 75 participating firms or individuals. There are four funds set up in operating the plan, which begins with a merchant turning over to the association an account which he has been unable to collect, but which the association feels is a good account and can eventually be collected. The first fund is known as the operating fund, and into this the merchant pays, in cash, 25 per cent of the "frozen" account he is selling to the association. From this fund expenses of operation are taken. The merchant is then issued the scrip which is in units of $1 and 25 cents, for the full amount of the account he has sold.

Validated By Stamps. The merchant then buys from the association stamps in denominations of 1 cent for the 25-cent units and 4 cents for the $1 units. This money is placed in the stamp fund of the association and is used to redeem the scrip when the amount of the units is matched in stamps which are placed on the back of the scrip in places provided for this purpose. One stamp is affixed every time the unit of scrip is used by a merchant, which thus constitutes a four per cent deduction from the purchase price of the article bought, allowed by the merchant and which finances the plan. The cash goes to the person who turns in the unit of scrip with the required amount of stamps affixed.

The third fund is known as the guarantee fund, and according to Paul Clark, who worked out the details of the plan, is made up by a deposit of $1 in cash by the sponsors of the plan, for every $1 worth of scrip that is issued. From this fund is paid, upon request of any merchant or individual who has possession of some of the scrip which he is unable to use at the time, the full amount of the face value of the unit, regardless of the amount of stamps attached, except that there must be at least one stamp to show that it has gone through bona fide channels. Thus a merchant who may accumulate more of the scrip than he can use, may exchange it for actual cash, Clark declared.

Collections Pooled

The fourth fund, known as the pool, is made up of the proceeds from collection of the "frozen" accounts, which were turned over to the association in exchange for the scrip, after deducting expense of collection. This expense has been set arbitrarily at 25 per cent, and a man employed to handle the collections for this commission. The balance then is to be divided among all the participating merchants or firms in the ratio of the amount of stamps they have purchased for validating the scrip which passes through their hands.

Since the plan was inaugurated it has been endorsed by the Merchants association of the city, and there are now some 75 participating members. The scrip is good only for trade at places of business which are participating, and a weekly list is issued giving the names of these places.

Some participating firms are using part of the scrip in payment of a percentage of their payrolls, but this is only done with the consent of the employees. Clark explained, where employees agree to accept it to aid their employers.

Guarantors Named

There is no provision made in the plan for denominations of less than 25 cents and those using the scrip for purchases are expected to have the right amount in scrip or pay the extra above the amount of scrip they offer in cash, or not receive exact change if they offer more than the required amount in scrip.

Provision has been made in setting up the organization for having 15 members of the association, or guarantors. At present there are 11 members. They are: C. H. Robinson, John Harms, Arthur Mueller, Orlo Barger, C. E. Short, Ivan Swanger, Paul Muench, C. Forrest Talmage, Paul Clark, Robert Bunon and Wilbur Lentz. This is the group which backs the plan and stands to lose the cash that is put up to guarantee the scrip if the plan does not succeed as anticipated or to make a profit from the balance left in the operating fund, if it succeeds.

A committee from this group looks over the accounts that are submitted for exchange for scrip to see that there are no outstanding accounts or accounts against bankrupts or accounts against persons with whom contact has been lost, but that all seem to be collectable.

The association maintains an office at 75 Plaza square.

ORANGES AND COFFEE TO BE LOBBY SUBJECT

"Coffee and Oranges" is the subject announced for tomorrow evening's popular lobby meeting at the Y. M. C. A. when Harry W. Lewis will speak and show pictures of Brazil. In his recent visit to that country, Lewis found many elements of great interest to Southern Californians, particularly in relation to trade conditions and agricultural products. The Tuesday evening entertainment will be given in the lobby, beginning at 7:30 o'clock and is open to all who are interested, free of charge.

Lewis has made nearly 200 talks on South America since his return from a six months tour of that continent, and he has won the reputation of being unusually well informed, as well as exceptionally able in his presentation of his facts. Those who have heard him speak on other parts of the South American continent will be especially interested in following his observations in Brazil.

How about a match between Gene Sarazen and Bobby Jones?

EDUCATION PAYS
If Charley Devens, the Harvard pitcher who joined the Yankees recently, hadn't stipulated in his contract that he be retained by the Yankees for the duration of the 1932 season Mr. Devens would be laboring right now in a New York uniform.

Bill Dickey, off the field, is a sweet and gentle soul, which makes his jaw-breaking attack on Carl Reynolds hard to understand.

Chuck Klein is being called the greatest outfielder in baseball by certain enthusiastic commentators. There's another fellow in the same league who is pretty good, too, the name being Paul Waner.

MY MAN IS WAGNER
A plebsite on the subject "Who Was the Greatest Ball Player—Wagner or Cobb?" would result in dissension and strife and probably riots.

Henri Cochet was beaten at Wimbledon, but he will be a tough one for the United States Davis Cup team at that, because he is one of the greatest money players the game ever knew.

Stanley Poreda, who bounded back in the limelight recently by beating Ernie Schaaf, wishes to deny that he has a bad hand. Stanley has had intentions toward Max Schmeling, however, declaring he knows he can beat Max because he showed Max around willy-nilly when the German was training at Endicott for his first bout with Sharkey.

Battling Nelson, one of the greatest lightweight of all time, always was careful with his scratch and has enough to live on now.

OUT OF THE SCRAPBOOK
Joe McCarthy, manager of the Yankees, appeared at second base in the first professional ball game in which Babe Ruth ever played. That was at Baltimore, April 22, 1914, when the Babe pitched and McCarthy played second base for Buffalo. Ruth gave the Bisons six hits, Baltimore winning, 9 to 0. And, by the way, McCarthy got no hits that day.

It would not be surprising if the third baseman of the Athletics before the season is ended should turn out to be Ed Madjeski, who joined the team last spring as a catcher.

The names of two young men from Beaumont, Tex.—Schoolboy Rowe, a pitcher, and Pete Fox, a slugger—will be displayed in box scores of games played by the Detroit Tigers next year.

THEY'RE RESTING UP
What has happened, by the way, to "the two best young infielders discovered in recent years," namely Frank Crosetti and Jack Saltzgaver? Forgotten Man Joe Sewell is now at third for the Yankees, and Forgotten Man Tony Lazzeri at second. Maybe that's the answer.

Cincinnati still has a chance to win the National league pennant.

Bill Gleason, who couldn't make the trip to the spring training camp because of illness, is back in uniform again, raising verbal chatter about the ears of the lagging A's.

WELL THEN, WHO IS?
The most valuable shortstop in the National league this year has turned out to be Dick Bartell of the Phils.

Gene Sarazen's $250,000 contract for two years of golf, makes it appear that a professional really can make more money than an amateur these days.

Spill Costs Furtsch Olympic Berth

GIRL FALLS AS SUCCESS NEAR IN U. S. TRIALS

Someone between here and Chicago, nobody knew just where, a broken-headed little girl was speeding homeward as fast as she could today—back to folks who would squeeze her hand and pat her on the back and tell her "cheer up and forget; that's the way it is in athletics!"

She was Evelyn Furtsch of Tustin, probably the best sprinter of her sex in the United States but who will be denied a place on the American Women's Olympic track and field team because of an unfortunate occurrence in the final tryouts at Evanston, Ill. last Saturday.

Miss Furtsch, leading the field by a comfortable margin, slipped and fell flat on the track in her semi-final heat of the 100 meters dash, according to information received by The Register. Unable to regain her feet in time to resume the race, she was automatically eliminated from contention.

Previously, the 18-year-old Tustin marvel had won her first heat with convincing ease, negotiating the distance in 12.5 seconds. Miss Furtsch recently established an unofficial world's record of 11.8 seconds for 100 meters (109 yards, 1 foot, 1 inch.)

The final tryouts were won by Ethel Harrington of the Illinois Athletic club in 12.3 seconds. Incidentally Miss Harrington was permitted to run in the finals after forgetting where the finish line was in her heat. She was followed by Wilhelmina Von Bremen, San Francisco; Elizabeth Wilde, Kansas City; Louise Stokes, Malden, Mass.; Mary Carey, Medford, Mass.; and Tidy Pickett of Chicago, all of whom qualified for the Olympic team, the first three in the century, and the other three for the relay.

Accompanied by her mother, and her coach, Vincent Humeston, Miss Furtsch motored to Evanston for the tryouts. She was in good condition and was virtually conceded a place on the team before her unfortunate accident. She is expected home the last part of this week.

AMERICAN WOMEN'S TEAM LEAVES FOR COAST
CHICAGO, July 18.—(UP)—With Mildred (Babe) Didrikson, 19-year-old Gallas, Tex. girl, occupying the chief role, 16 members of the United States Women's Olympic track and field team were scheduled to leave for Los Angeles today.

Miss Didrikson made the team in three events—80 meter hurdles, high jump and javelin—and broke world's records in each of them in the National A. A. U. championship and final Olympic tryouts Saturday at Dyche stadium, Evanston.

She threw the javelin 139 feet, 3 inches, breaking her own world's record of 133 feet 5 1/2 inches. She leaped 5 feet, 3 1/2 inches to tie with Jean Shiley, Philadelphia, in the high jump, surpassing the world's record of 5 feet, 3 1/8 inches held by M. Gisolf, Holland. She won the 80 meter hurdles in 12.1 seconds after 12 seconds by 1-10 of a second in a heat.

Out of eight events she entered, she won five outright, tied for first in another, placed fourth in one and failed in only the 100 meter dash. Single-handed she scored 30 points and won the meet by herself for her team, the Employers Casualty company, Dallas.

FRESNO, July 18.—(UP)—Fire destroyed Firemen's baseball park here Sunday. Cause of the blaze, which started in the dressing rooms, was not determined. Loss was placed at $11,000. The club recently was offered to the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league after the Seattle park burned.

MISS CRUICKSHANK AT ESSEX FOR FAMOUS TENNIS TOURNAMENT
MANCHESTER, BY THE SEA, Aug. 18.—(INS)—This beautiful north shore town—mecca of society during the summer months—today played host to many of the country's leading women tennis stars.

The annual invitation tournament at the Essex Country club, however, was without the usual court play of Helen Wills Moody, queen of tennis, and her running mate, Helen Jacobs, both of San Francisco.

SAVOLDI BOUT FEATURES MAT CARD THURSDAY

The most pretentious outdoor wrestling program ever staged in Orange county and the first wrestling show to be held in the county in more than eight years is scheduled for the Santa Ana Bowl Thursday night when Elmer Wilson offers a four bout, all-star card featuring some of the leading matmen of the country.

The feature match, a three-fall finish battle, no-time limit, brings together "Jumping Joe" Savoldi, the famed former Notre Dame fullback and Barney Ostropovich, 230-pound Lithuanian champion.

Everette Marshall tangles with "Bull" Hefner, tough Texan. The nationally famous Wladek Zybsko, former heavyweight titleholder, tangles with Harry Ekizian, four times winner of the All-Navy championship and Harold (Hardy) Kruskamp, former Ohio State football player, meets Karl Davis, Oklahoma's "bad boy" in a one fall, 30 minutes time limit opener.

Both the Marshall-Hefner and the Ekizian-Zybsko bouts are scheduled for two-out-of-three falls, with a one-hour time limit imposed.

Already a brisk advance sale of ringside seats tickets leads promoter Willson to predict a complete sellout of the 500 ringside seats before Wednesday morning.

NEW YORK, July 15.—(INS)—Lack of financial backing forced the Eastern league to go out of business today, the collapse was laid to the fact the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, who had an interest in the Bridgeport and Hartford clubs, relinquished their support.

It was announced by officials that five of the eight members of the league were able to meet their obligations, these being Hartford, Bridgeport, Springfield, Albany and Richmond. The other three, Allentown, Norfolk and New Haven, were not.

Hill, Lemon Will Escape Punishment

"Memphy" Hill and Francis Lemon will not be suspended for their part in the free-for-all fight which climaxed last Friday's hectic Santa Ana Ana-Anaheim night baseball game.

L. C. McClelland, acting president of the National Night league, made this announcement officially today after receiving a written report of the incident from Umpire Bill Affleck, who was calling balls and strikes back of the plate where the Hill-Lemon altercation occurred.

McClelland said Affleck's version of the affair was that Hill and Lemon were both "on edge because of the exciting contest, and that neither should be punished beyond a reprimand."

He would act accordingly, and that as far as he was concerned both players would be in their respective lineups tomorrow when Santa Ana meets Whittier at Anaheim.

The latter game, moved to Anaheim at Huntington Beach's request, may be played Wednesday. An official announcement of the date will be made tomorrow.

George Peterkin, president of the league, is on his vacation. McClelland, secretary, has been officiating during his absence.

CITY LEAGUERS IN LEAN WEEK OF BALL PLAY

Santa Ana City league ball clubs swing into a lean week tonight, four games being all that will be consummated. Tuesday and Friday contests by the Stars, and a wrestling show Thursday, cut deeply into the diamond schedule.

The First National bank meets Spurgeon M. E. South, at 7 o'clock tonight. A's Auto Service and Red and White Stores collide at 8. Wednesday's games: MacMillan Gasoline vs. Weber's Bakery, 7 p. m.; Elks vs. J. C. Penney company, 8 p. m.

Holding the opposition scoreless until the last inning, Red and White Stores defeated Weber's Bakery, 5-2, in a game at the Bowl Saturday night, postponed from June 28. Stevens pitched faultlessly for the winners to shade the portly Bill Stinchfield in a nice pitching duel. Stinchfield was in the game until the sixth when his support broke down and allowed the Red and White runs.

The box score:
Red & White Stores: 10 runs, 3 hits, 1 error. Weber's Bakery: 5 runs, 2 hits, 2 errors.

1932 TEAM NO STRONGER THAN IN '28--COACH

PALO ALTO, July 18.—(UP)—Coach Lawson Robertson was pessimistic today over the caliber of the American team he will lead into the Olympic Games though others characterized the squad the greatest track team in American history.

Thirty thousand spectators watched records fall in the determined battle to win berths on the squad that will fight for America, two weeks hence at Los Angeles.

Robertson, the Pennsylvania mentor who will move to Los Angeles Wednesday with the squad, refused to be optimistic over the team. He declared it looked no better than the 1928 team America sent to the Amsterdam Olympiad, with "nothing from the middle distances on."

Amid the breaking of two world records, equalling of one, and lowering of five Olympic records, there were several upsets. Perhaps the greatest was the failure of the West's outstanding sprinters to live up to earlier performances.

East Places 25 Men
The East won the most places on the squad of 68 men, contributing 25 men, the West 21, the Middle-west 15, and the South 4.

Ben Eastman, Stanford; Frank Wykoff, University of Southern California, and Bob Kiesel, University of California, were toppled from the throne of "unbeatable." Although Wykoff and Kiesel were shut out of the first three places in the sprints, they were picked by Robertson and Chairman Avery Brundage of the American Olympic Committee, to run on the 400 meters relay team.

Bill Carr, diminutive Pennsylvania star, clearly demonstrated his victory two weeks ago over Eastman was not a happen-so. Carr flashed over the 400 meters dash in 45.5 seconds, easily leaving Eastman at the finish to shatter the world record.

Probably the worst blow given to a world's record was the performance of Bill Grader, U. S. C., in adding nearly three inches to Lee Barnes' pole vault mark. Brader hoisted himself 14 feet 4 3/8 inches.

Two Negroes Best Sprinters
In the sprints, two Negro youths, Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette and Eddie Tolan of Michigan, grazed over the 100 and 200 meters in front of Kiesel, Wykoff, Dyer and

Of great importance will be the effect of the long ocean voyage on foreign contingents and, in the cases of the European teams, the subsequent trip by train. We have blamed foreign travel for our training troubles in past Olympics. This year the alphas, if any, belong to the people from the other continents.

If the Finns, the Germans, the English and the others had only to cross the Atlantic, their troubles would be simplified. It is the trip across the country that will bother them.

That same trip bothers our eastern football coaches every year when they make the jump for inter-sectional games. The coaches believe that the wise course is either to arrive in California on the day before they play or else fully 10 days or two weeks before.

The football men and our track people who have competed in California in National championships have reported that for the first day or two after arrival they felt a feeling of logginess sets in.

Knute Rockne invariably arrived in California with his Notre Dame football team just in time to play. West Point in 1929 tried the other plan and found a tired team on its hands before the end of the first half.

For the Americans, who arrived several days before the final trials at Palo Alto, the situation should be nearly perfect. As a matter of fact, the U. S. A. A. A. athletes, many of whom will be among our Olympic representatives, were on the scene in June, competing in their championships at Berkeley July 1-2. That should give them a chance to become acclimatized.

I've always wondered why California, prolific in sprinting, hurdling, quarter-mile and field stars, has been so woefully lacking in distance runners. We may find out this summer whether that can be blamed on the climate. It will be hot enough but probably not much hotter than Stockholm or London.

SPORT RULERS KAYE DON SETS FALL IN GREAT WORLD RECORD DAY OF UPSETS IN SPEEDBOAT

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 18.—(UP)—What a rascal of a day that Saturday was!

For sports champions, I mean. From California to New York the big shots took it on the whiskers from lesser-knowns. Just take a peek at a few of the headlines in yesterday's papers, if you don't think Saturday set some sort of standing, jumping, running record in the way of upsets.

"Venke falls to make Olympic team as Hallowell triumphs."
"Carr cracks 400 mark to defeat Eastman."

"Gusto takes rich Arlington classic as Top Flight finishes fifth."
"Dutra wins Metropolitan Open; victor ties Sarabens 27-hole U. S. Open mark."

"Dorothy Peyton defeats Georgia Coleman in Olympic diving try-outs."
"Yanks bow to Indians, losing first home series."
"Wykoff shutout in 100-meter dash."

Venke's Defeat Shock
Try and show me another day with that many surprises.

Venke falls to make the Olympic team! That tops 'em all. Venke, the 4:10 miler, the distance sensation of the year, the boy the experts called one of the greatest runners of all time. If his defeat shocks us, think of how it must have rocked him.

I mean that business of having to slow down to a jog in the last 60 yards and watch three rivals pound by to sweep him out of the Olympics that has been his goal for four years.

LOCH LOMOND, Scotland, July 18.—(UP)—Kaye Don, daring British racing driver, broke the world's speedboat record twice today when he sent the powerful Miss England III bulleting over the choppy waters of Loch Lomond at the amazing speed of 119.81 miles an hour on his second attempt.

He wrestled the world mark from the United States on his first attempt this morning, beating Gar Wood's record of 117.71 with a speed of 117.43. Don dared unfavorable weather to zoom over the official course again at the still greater speed.

On one of the two official runs which registered the last average of 119.81, the long, stream-lined craft roared over the official one-mile course at 120.50 miles an hour. This made Don the first to travel two miles a minute on the water.

In addition to breaking the world record twice, Don also beat the British national record of 98.96 miles an hour, established by Sir Henry Seagrave at Lake Windermere, 1930, just a few minutes before he was killed in the Miss England II.

Don started his record attempts at 6:25 a. m. before dawn. He was accompanied by his trusted mechanic, Richard Garwood.

Today Don won back from Gar Wood, the record which Wood wrested from Don at Miami Beach, Fla., last February when Wood's speedboat America went 117.71 miles an hour. Don previously had made 110.23 m. p. h. at Lake Garda in July, 1931, driving the Miss England II.

The annual invitation tournament at the Essex Country club, however, was without the usual court play of Helen Wills Moody, queen of tennis, and her running mate, Helen Jacobs, both of San Francisco.

The absence of these two stars made the path to the finals more serene for Mrs. Lawrence Harper, another San Franciscan, who is back from her European engagements.

Last year, Mrs. Harper was defeated by Mrs. Moody in the finals. Among those competing today were Mrs. Marjorie Morrill Painter of Brookline, National indoor sin-

Throws Rock At Step Child And Draws $10 Fine

ORANGE, July 18.—Charging that her step-mother continued to treat her like a step-child, even though she was married, Mrs. Roberta Amasqua, of El Modena, brought a charge of assault and battery against Mrs. Santos Rameris in the court of Judge A. W. Swayze Saturday. Mrs. Rameris said that it was the custom for a step-child to obey a step-mother and she pleaded guilty to throwing a rock about five inches long and four inches through at Mrs. Amasqua in order to make her obey. The defendant was given a fine of $10.

PASTOR TELLS NECESSITY OF CLEAN THINKING

ORANGE, July 18.—For his message in the morning service the Rev. J. S. Sorenson of the Mennonite church spoke on the subject, "Christian Conduct." For his text he read Peter 2:11: "Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness."

He spoke on the danger of setting down in a state of indifference or self-satisfaction. The Christian life is a life of toll and activity, a constant pressing on toward the goal, he said.

The main part of the message was based on the words, "What manner of persons ought ye to be?" The speaker stressed the importance of clean thinking.

"Some people seem to have the idea that it makes little difference what we think; but it should be remembered that we are no better than the thoughts we entertain," the pastor said. "Evil thoughts might rush through a person's mind but one can keep them from lodging there. It is the harboring of evil thoughts in the mind that break down character. We are born into this world with a multitude of tendencies and desires which in themselves are not sinful, but become so when some are gratified out of proportion and at the expense of others. Physical desires and even the mental aspect should be governed by the highest self, the spiritual self. The need of loyalty and faithfulness on the part of Christians followers was also brought out.

A duet "Jesus Will," was rendered by Mable Johnston and Evelyn Pentecost. The address given in the evening by A. W. Bourne, membership secretary of the Gideons, was much appreciated by all present. Mr. Bourne spoke of the origin of the Gideon association and gave a brief history of its work.

TRUST LORD. PASTOR URGES IN EL MODENA

EL MODENA, July 18.—At El Modena Friends church Sunday morning, the Scripture lesson, Matthew 21:12, was read by the Rev. Mr. Schultz, of Santa Ana. Prayer was offered by Clyde Roberts, of Santa Ana, who has returned recently from Mexico, where he was doing missionary work. The sermon was preached by the pastor, the Rev. James E. Fisk, who said in part:

"Let us intercede to God to direct our minds. We have to have God in our little home affairs; we have to have Him to help us run our little peanut stand. Sometimes we have to pray for His criticism. David said, 'The Lord is my Shepherd. He restoreth my soul.' Whatsoever He does for us is best. It would have been hard if Moses had looked at that which do appear, but he looked beyond what the natural eye could see. Let us trust the Lord."

"I read a story of some children who brought their father a nice, big chair. And one of them said, 'Father, isn't this a nice, comfortable chair?' And he sat on the very edge of it, and said, 'Oh, yes, it is nice. And then he sat back in it, and saw how comfortable it really was. Now nice it would be if we would sit down and relax in the arms and the hands of God. So many times it goes contrary to our thinking about things. My help cometh from the Lord. David was chased like a partridge and when he was in the case, he said, 'The Lord has followed him into your hands. But David only cut off the corner of his robe.'"

"God says, 'Repent and confess.' Saul confessed, but he didn't repent. David had troubles, and he said, 'The Lord is my refuge.' It is so wonderful how the Lord truly is our refuge. It is good for us to wait upon Him. Oh, if our statesmen and all our hungry people would turn their faces to the Lord, 'He is my hiding place.' There would be money and every man would have a square deal. It isn't because the earth has not produced it but selfishness has come in. Saul tried to bring it about by his own skill but David depended on God. When you enter into your closet you come out knowing that He has heard you. We expect the Spirit of God to lead every one of His people. 'I will lift up my eyes unto the hills.' It is impossible for God to do much for us, when we are struggling against Him. You know when we try to rescue a drowning person, we have to wait until they quit struggling to save them. I believe God has permitted a lot of these things in order that we may become helpless so that He can rescue us."

Minck, West Chapman avenue, was hostess at a party at Irvine park Friday afternoon when her fourth birthday was observed. Decorations were carried out in pink and white.

The afternoon was spent at games and pictures of the young guests were taken. The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Minck and children left yesterday for Lexington, Ky., where they will spend the next two months and the event combined a farewell affair for the pastor's little daughters and their playmates with the natal day event.

MONEY PRINCIPAL FACTOR IN AGITATION FOR BOOZE, DR. MAULAY SAYS IN TALK

ORANGE, July 18.—Taking as his topic that of First Timothy 6:10, "For the love of money is the root of all evil," and applying his text to the prohibition question, Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered an address yesterday morning before members of the Men's Bible class at the Colonial theater, men and women of the community being guests.

Dr. McAulay said in part: "There were the results of prohibition. He said that there were 48 known rackets in Chicago and that the liquor racket was but one of them. Of the rackets, Mr. Mitchell said, the cleaners and dyers racket was probably the largest in scope."

Dr. McAulay stressed the fact that liquor never obeys the law and called attention to the fact that when George Washington was president he had been obliged to send troops into Pennsylvania to compel liquor men to conform to laws then in effect. He also called attention to the Whiskey rebellion, which occurred in the early days of the nation.

In concluding, the pastor said that the bootlegger had existed before prohibition and that the first ones, it was thought, came into existence in 1821 when the first prohibition laws were enacted in the state of Maine. He declared that the very persons who violate the law are the ones who make complaints through the press that the law cannot be enforced.

"The heart of the entire matter," said the speaker, "is alcohol. When we speak of alcohol we step out of the realm of opinion or politics and into the realm of laboratory facts."

Dr. Richard Cabot, head of the medical staff of Harvard university, in presenting facts on alcohol, declares that it is a poor food, that it is narcotic in nature and has the same effects as chloroform or ether. It provides energy for a short time and then the energy is greatly decreased. After drinking an ordinary glass of beer it has been proved that a person responds from two-fifths to three-fifths slower to a given signal, says Dr. Cabot.

"We must all accept the challenge of the 18th amendment," Dr. McAulay declared.

La Habran Gets Fine of $10 On Assault Charge

Bemis declared that he had presented a bill for materials to Mr. Shibley and that the latter had called him names. Shibley asserted that Bemis struck him in the jaw, breaking his own fist in the operation. Bemis began action in the court to collect the bill directly after he paid his fine.

ORANGE, July 18.—The wedding of Miss Frances Y. Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Miller, 433 East La Veta avenue, and Mason William Conner, of Los Angeles, formerly of Orange, took place in the home of the bridegroom's father, Joseph Conner, North Olive street, this city, July 15.

An archway of greenery and white blossoms provided a setting for the ceremony, read by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck, pastor of the First Christian church. Large baskets of flowers used throughout the rooms completed the decorations.

For the ceremony, the bride was gown in white satin and lace, with which she carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas, breath of heaven and maidenhair fern. In place of a veil she wore a wreath of orange blossoms. The lovely crystals which she wore were the gift of her aunt, Mrs. Fanny Herbert.

Miss Winnie Conner, a sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a blue satin frock and carried an arm bouquet of pink sweet peas, breath of heaven and fern. Chester Day, of Los Angeles, was best man.

During the reception which followed, wedding cake and ice cream were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Conner are spending their honeymoon at Mt. Lowe and other California resorts. For traveling, the bride wore a pink silk crepe suit, with a fox fur and other accessories in white. On their return, the young people will make their home in Los Angeles.

Last year expenditures were $158,891.89 and this year the budget was set at $143,845.00. Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

'TRYING TIMES' IS TOPIC USED IN SUNDAY TALK

Using stories in the Bible to illustrate his point, the Rev. C. C. Houston, pastor of the Southside Church of Christ, delivered a sermon on the subject, "Trying Times" at the church yesterday.

"In our walk through this life there are some very trying times," he said. "We are in the midst of some of them at the present. Men's minds are being troubled and perplexed with the struggle to supply themselves and families with the needful things of life.

"With so many losing their homes because of the lack of work, and the hard and weary, and the lack of understanding, it is hard to center the minds of some on the great and enduring things of the soul and the need of trusting in the God of the Universe.

"In the story of Ruth and Naomi, we have a sweet and tender lesson for us all in this day. They are many other things of the Old Testament have a lesson for us all. Ruth was a Moabitess, an alien to Israel, and of a nation against which none were to enter the congregation of Israel forever to the tenth generation. She was the daughter-in-law of Naomi, who with her husband and two sons had come out to the land of Israel some years before. Orpah and Ruth had each married these sons. All three of the husbands died and the three widows had started back to Palestine, the former home of Naomi. They stopped on the way and Naomi told her two daughters to return to their own people and their own gods.

"Finally Orpah turned back and Ruth clung to her. It was a trying hour for both. It was thrilling with interest as Orpah slowly turns away. She is weeping as she goes. Ruth is also weeping and clinging to Naomi's neck and pleading. What a test this must have been. Each one who will be a Christian sooner or later will have severe tests to try them. They will be conclusive, determining the real character of our life we profess. Joshua called upon the people to choose. Some said they would follow Christ wherever He went. If one is for the Christ, he will continue to live for Him. When many were leaving the Master, Peter said, 'to whom shall we go?' then he said, 'the words of Eternal Life.' Orpah and Ruth could look back to the home city, and the verdant fields green and fair. They could see the mother at home in the door, and hear the faint hum of the voices of loved ones to be left behind and it was a strong pull and urge to go back.

"Some one said, 'When the motives of the world are strongest, and the motives of Heaven are the weakest, then the test comes.' Had they made a mistake in starting? May we not say the same about our Christian life? Let the choice for God be strong as you can make it then build on to that strength with the help of God. When tested some as Orpah will turn back. After on the way, with the tender feeling, and with strong motives pulling the way back. In following Naomi she was risking all. She was going among strangers. They were enemies. She a widow, and poor. They were a company of poor, helpless, poverty-stricken, and grief-stricken women. She was not only leaving home, but her ideal god. Let us not misjudge her. She was a good wife and daughter. She stood by Naomi in trouble. But she returned. She could be persuaded.

"Listen! Good people, well-meaning people, kind-hearted, sympathetic people may lack that which holds on to the Christ in a critical test. Ruth goes on. I will not leave thee. Her love and devotion bore the test. But there was more: there was that intelligent love of choice. Where you go I will go, where you lodge I will lodge, and where you die I will also, and there be buried. Here is deep-rooted, thoughtful, cleaving affection, strong as death. We need this kind to follow on after the Christ when the storm clouds are around us.

"We can lean upon Him in all times of need. He will never forsake us. Her religion was thy God shall be my God. What a choice! Leave father, mother, sister, home, for God. She had learned by the powerful example of Naomi and her husband and their teachings and their prayers that God is God and she could give up all to serve Him. The name of Ruth had been immortal for all time. She stood the great test to be faithful to God under difficulties and great sacrifices and was rewarded in the ancestry of the Messiah. In this decision she helped to decide the destinies of the race of mankind.

"Let us face with trust and strong decision whatever comes into our life and use our wills to ever decide for God and His way, for right and the forces for the good of humanity."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Life" was the subject of the lesson-sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Golden Text was from the Psalms: "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life: of whom shall I be afraid?"

One of the Bible citations in the lesson-sermon presented these words of Christ Jesus from the Gospel of John: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall be done also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father, and whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. . . . Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also. At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you."

A passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "A demonstration of the facts of Soul in Jesus" way resolves the dark visions of material sense into harmony and immortality."

SEAL BEACH

The Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Wilt left Tuesday for Lennox, where the Rev. Mr. Wilt will take charge of the Methodist church. The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Coyne moved here the first of the week. The Young People's club of St. Ann's Catholic church will stage an Olympiad dance at the Long Beach Recreation clubhouse, 5000 East Anaheim street, on Saturday evening, July 23. The public is invited to attend.

MINISTER SAYS PESSIMISM OF WORLD CONTRADICTION TO THE FAITH OF CHRIST

Declaring that the hopeless pessimism concerning national and world problems is a contradiction to the faith of Christ, the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered a sermon on the subject, "The Spirit of God and Today's Problems," at the union church services which were held at the First Christian church last night.

"According to the account of the Creation as recorded in the early verses of the Book of Genesis, the Spirit of God moved over the earth which was waste and void, and immediately darkness gave way to light, chaos was displaced by order, life and growth and beauty came into being," he said. "It is written again and again on the pages of God's Word that the life-giving Spirit of God is responsible for the mysterious origin of all life, for the beauty in nature, and for the order in the worlds about us.

"There is abroad in the world a hopeless pessimism concerning national and world problems. This pessimism is a contradiction to the faith of Christ, who said, 'Be of good cheer, I have overcome the world,' and who taught his disciples to pray, 'Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.' God is not dead. He is not forgotten. His world nor has He forsaken it. He is the author of world redemption, for the Lamb of God has been slain from the foundation of the world, and 'God sent His Son into the world to condemn the world but that the world through Him might be saved.' Nor has the World Creator and our Heavenly Father withdrawn His Spirit from us.

"Here is the way out of our problems: 'And when He, the Spirit of Truth is come, He shall lead you into all truth.' Until we approach the solution of the world's problems in the Spirit of Christ we shall reap nothing but a harvest of barren regrets and the peace of death. After the Crimean war one of Great Britain's historians wrote 'The boys did all the fighting, the people did all the shouting, but nobody did the thinking.' The Christian mind of the world has been at work on the 'Way to Peace,' let us increasingly understand that progress in that 'Way' can only come through mutual co-operation and good-will among men.

"Spengler in his 'Decline of the Western Civilization' challenges us with the thought that the world will not submit forever to the domination of the white race. We know of the ferment that is going on among the yellow and black and brown races. It is time for the Christian mind to give a new emphasis to the thought that God's will is the creation and bringing in of a world brotherhood. Cain's question, 'Am I my brother's keeper?' must give way to one that is more in accord with the Spirit of Christ, 'Am I my brother's brother?'"

"In the business and economic world there is today waste and disorder and we are looking for light and a way out. It is well for us to consider that the spirit which was largely dominated our economic life has been the spirit of production, the spirit of acquisition, the spirit of profit and not the Spirit of God. That's the reason we have darkness and ugliness and chaos stalking through the land today. The Spirit of God, which was exemplified in the life of Jesus, puts its emphasis upon human values. Jesus raised the question in His day, 'How much better is a man than a sheep?' the question we ought to raise, in His name today, is, 'How much better is a man than a machine?'"

THIRD PARTY PLANS WILL BE DISCUSSED

A discussion on plans for the organization of a disinterested third political party will be led by W. Maxwell Burke, Santa Ana attorney, at the regular meeting of the Spurgeon Memorial church Brotherhood which will be held at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow in the church parlors. It was made known today.

The Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, has been active in urging the necessity of a strong third party which will express the sentiments alike of Christians, prohibitionists, liberals and everyone interested in bringing the United States out of its deplorable unsettled economic condition. It has been announced previously.

The Rev. Mr. Warner declared that the two major political parties have utterly failed to meet the problems of unemployment and other overwhelming economic and social issues.

JESUS CHRIST AS REFUGE IS TOLD IN TALK

Closing with a plea that "nothing should come between the soul and God, and that no thoughts nor actions should be such as to be ashamed before Him, and that the heart should be kept right," the Rev. Joseph Reese, pastor of the Yorba Linda Friends church, urged that the blood of Jesus Christ be not neglected as a perfect and complete victory and absolute refuge and safety forever, speaking at his church yesterday.

"Neglect of this remedy means eternal death," he said. "Sin is real, full of villainy and wickedness, and there is no polite name that makes it less terrible.

"There is but one remedy, the blood of Jesus, which creates a new heart in Him. This remedy is without price and never fails. There is no peace nor rest to compare with that which comes to the heart when there is no condemnation, after the heart is cleansed by Jesus," he continued.

At the close of his sermon he sang "Broken for Me."

Included in the announcements is a meeting of the Get Busy class Friday night at a social in the social hall. It will be an evening affair with refreshments served at the close.

An orchestra is being organized among the Sunday school, with Evan Townsend as director. Yesterday morning, in keeping with a new program for the summer, the primary department had charge of the program of worship that preceded the Sunday school class hour.

On Wednesday night Maria Helaney will lead the older group and Esther Marshburn the younger group at prayer service.

American transport planes are now flying on an average of 150,000 miles a day.

CALL OF MOSES AND PASSOVER IS DISCUSSED

Combining two of the regular Bible lessons, to make up for the one missed last Sunday, when there was a guest speaker, the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church and teacher of the Men's Community Bible class spoke yesterday morning on "The Call of Moses and the Passover," at the class session in the Fox West Coast theater.

The teacher, in beginning the lesson, declared that the Old Testament from which the lessons were taken was the story of the building of a nation by God out of which should come the savior of men, while the New Testament was the story of that savior.

"After some 400 years in Egyptian bondage, God prepared to lead the Israelites out," the Rev. Mr. Buchanan said. "God always prepares His leaders for the great tasks in the world. He is preparing some now in America. We are on the eve of a great awakening and reformation. Moses was prepared for his work from infancy. He spent 40 years in the wilderness, learning all about it so later he could successfully lead his people through it. Then God sent Moses to Pharaoh and the Israelites with a message."

"America today needs men to carry God's message to their fellow men. Men must rise up and dedicate their lives to God and accept His leadership. We must have His spirit in business. It's just as religious to pray at your work as it is for a minister to pray in his study.

"Pharaoh refused to believe the message Moses brought and hardened his heart. After many demonstrations of power came the wave of the death of all the first-born in the land, except in the homes of those who according to the directions of Moses had sprinkled blood from a lamb on the door post. The death angel passed over those homes where the blood was sprinkled. Then did Pharaoh relent and set the Israelites free. Blood had saved them from bondage.

"Jesus shed His blood for us on the cross, and where the mark of His blood is on man, God says He shall live on and on. God plans wonderful things for us if we will only listen and obey. Let us look unto Him for peace and strength and happiness."

OPEN INSTITUTE OF PHILOSOPHY SUNDAY

Next Sunday morning Edwin O. Colbeck, Ph.D., will open an Institute of Philosophy and Religion in the Bush theater, Bush and Third streets. It was announced today.

The lectures will begin at 11 a. m. prompt. The subject to be discussed will be the "Psychology of Success." This will be especially interesting to those who are seeking to get the best out of life. It will encourage those who are failures to become successes it was said.

Dr. Colbeck has been on the public platform and in religious work for many years and can speak with authority upon this subject.

Anti-knock That doesn't fade in summer heat

The superior hot weather stability of Union 76's increased octane rating is now definitely proved by desert runs

Over 100 miles per hour for fastest stock car mile—30 other records made with 76 gasoline.

On a desert dry lake bottom 5 miles long and 2 to 3 miles wide in atmospheric temperatures varying from 90 to 120 degrees, two Auburn cars of the usual higher compression type now being built by most automobile manufacturers broke practically all American Stock Car Speed records last week.

It is significant that these were the first records to be established in recent years with a strictly stock non-premium fuel—the gasoline was 76, taken directly from a roadside pump.

What Cooper says

Earl Cooper, one of the most famous racing drivers, observed the record runs and states: "There could be no tougher test for gasoline than that of the dry lake run. With the air dry and hot—vaporization of gasoline occurred almost in the feed lines. A fuel that was not scientifically refined perfectly would never have stood up."

How You Benefit

76 gasoline has an advantage over other fuels, of a crude oil supply particularly adaptable in developing a higher octane rating. 76 is designed to stop your engine knocks and give you car new smoothness, no matter how steep the grade or how hot the outside temperature.

You'll note, too, that POWER is increased. That's because it contains the power-producing fractions of the distillation range that assure maximum energy on every piston stroke. You will notice this extra power particularly on hills and in traffic pick-up.

Five factors: non-premium, anti-knock, added power, increased mileage and the quick starting quality of 76 provide the greatest economy in motor fuel costs.

Money Back Guarantee

New Union 76 is sold on perhaps the most generous money back guarantee ever put behind a gasoline. Read it:

After you try 10 gallons of New Union 76, if you do not recognize an improvement over any fuel premium fuel you have used, just send us your receipt and we will refund the amount of your purchase in cash.

Switch at Once!

Don't go through the summer with an engine that knocks. Just switch to 76 and get an ANTI-KNOCK that doesn't fade in summer heat—one that gives you extra power and mileage too.

It's easy to find 76. Just look ahead. Slow down when you see the 76 banner. There you'll find the gasoline that broke almost all of the American Stock Car Speed Records.

KREG PRESENTS MUSICIANS IN NEW PROGRAM

A new feature will be broadcast from KREG tonight at 8 o'clock when Barbara White and Hilma Rauma, popular young Orange county musicians, present a program of violin and piano numbers, it was announced today by studio officials.

The new radio artists will present several violin and piano selections, including "The Gondoliers" from Nevises suite, "A Day in Venice," and "The Little Old Garden," arranged from the song by Thos. Hewitt. Barbara White plays the violin and Hilma Rauma plays the piano solos and accompaniments.

"A Perfect Day," the popular number by Carrie Jacobs Bond, will be played as a violin and piano number. The number was written by Mrs. Bond as she sat at the window in Mission Inn after a drive with friends on her first visit to California. The song was written on an old envelope and forgotten, but was later brought to light and set to music.

Barbara will present "Morning" by Oley Speaks as a vocal solo which will be followed by a piano solo, "To a Comedian," by Cadman which is dedicated to Charlie Chaplin and which is taken from the Hollywood Suite.

The musicians are scheduled to go on the air from the local radio station regularly on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and are expected to find favor with radio listeners.

INTEREST SHOWN IN POLITICAL PROGRAM

Manifest interest has already been shown by radio listeners in the "Our State, County and City Government" program which is presented as a feature over KREG, according to an announcement made today by studio officials.

The program will be broadcast again from 8:45 until 9 o'clock tonight from the local radio station. During the program the way civic and other governmental bodies operate, what they are allowed by law to do and what they are not allowed to do, as well as a list of candidates for various offices in the August primaries, is told. The program explains the working of local government in simple language. Listeners may send any questions on the subjects to KREG.

Another special announcement of paramount interest to children will be made tonight concerning the Animal Show during the Charles Halway Insurance agency program which goes on the air at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Several announcements of interest for adults will also be made.

A group of the latest releases in recordings by the Mill Brothers, Thomas Waller and Guy Lombardo and His Royal Canadians will be featured on the American School program to be broadcast at 10:45 a. m. tomorrow.

The program presented by Ray Dutton, popular pianist, has been changed. The artist will be heard from KREG tomorrow morning at 11:30 o'clock instead of at 2:30 p. m. on Mondays and Wednesdays.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

Beginning with Rimsky-Korsakoff's ever-popular "Song of India," and concluding with the famous "Ave Maria" by Bach-Gounod, Richard Crooks will present a Voice of Firestone concert over a coast-to-coast NBC network, including KFI and KFSD, between 7:30 and 8 o'clock tonight. Crooks, the American opera and concert tenor who recently was engaged by the Metropolitan Opera company, has also chosen three other favorites for his all-request program. One is Cadman's expression of love "At Dawn," another is the "Pagan Love Song," and the third is the Italian song of sunshine, "O Sole Mio."

Four delightful compositions by the immortal Johann Strauss, including his "Blue Danube Waltz" and "Tales From the Vienna Woods," will be featured by the Nomads under Joseph Hornik's direction in the half-hour program to be broadcast over the NBC network including KFSD beginning at 9 o'clock tonight. Mary Wood, soprano soloist with this group of strings and woodwinds, will contribute two numbers—"If I" and the charming old Irish song, "The Last Rose of Summer."

THIS IS THE LIFE!

LONDON, Eng.—Once a leader in English society, the Hon. Mrs. Swanton Strangways, cousin of the Earl of Ilchester, is now happy tending boats for hire and mending fish nets. To recuperate after four years of nursing during the war, Mrs. Strangways came to the little village of Babbacombe. The simplicity of her new neighbors and the quiet, peaceful life charmed her, and she has remained ever since.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

For the Occasional Party

Fresh crab is now at its best, and extremely low in price, as such foods go. There is no need for me to tell about serving crab with mayonnaise and so on, but there is a crying need for a good deviled crab dish in this column.

I got one from a friend, tried it, found it too dry, so I took it apart and added eggs and cream to it with most satisfactory results. For baking fish dishes one of the best investments you can make is the purchase of a dozen scallop shells. These can be found in any kitchen-ware department and cost about one dollar per dozen. They last indefinitely and give your food just the touch it needs.

DEVILED CRAB (10 Portions)

1 pound flaked fresh crab meat equal amount of rolled crackers
1 large green pepper
1 small bunch celery
1 large onion

bunch of parsley
salt, pepper, cayenne and paprika to taste

2 teaspoons dry mustard
1-4 pounds butter
2 eggs, well beaten
2 cups rich milk and
2-3 cup thin cream

toasted crumbs for tops
A pound of flaked crab meat makes a good big pint, so that measure for the cracker crumbs. Take the vegetables, run them through the food chopper and saute them in the butter.

Combine with the cracker crumbs, milk, cream and beaten eggs. Season very highly with paprika and cayenne, add salt, pepper and dry mustard and mix until you are sure the seasoning is all through the dish, then fold in the flaked crab, carefully, though, so that it won't get messy. Fill the shells (buttered) or put in a shallow baking dish, cover with toasted crumbs and bits of butter and bake 15 minutes in a medium hot oven. Garnish with lemon slices and water dress.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Roasted Squab Chickens

4 squab chickens
2 cups boiled rice
2 tablespoons chopped green onions
pinch of sage and thyme
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1-2 cup melted butter
1 egg, well beaten
strips of bacon

By squab chicken I mean the tiny broilers that are just a bit too small for frying. Allow one chicken for each adult. All sorts of prices are to be had on these tiny broilers, even as low as six for a dollar, so you see how reasonably you can plan for the main course when giving in dinner party.

Have the chickens dressed and split down the back. When you go over them for a final cleaning take the kitchen scissors and trim them carefully, sinews and paralyze in butter, add cooked rice and fry again, then the seasonings, and forgetting a little pepper and salt. Bind this dressing with the beaten egg. (For the brides, that direction "bind" means mixing the egg thoroughly through the rice.)

Hold a chicken in your left hand and fill loosely with the rice dressing, press the halves together and bind with twine. Pin a strip of bacon around each bird, arrange them in a baking dish and roast 45 minutes in a medium hot oven. As soon as they begin to brown baste them with hot water and the bacon drippings.

When you serve each bird don't forget to remove the twine and the bacon. The bacon is used to flavor the bird and to supply a savory fat for basting.

Each tiny chicken with its share of dressing has a caloric total of approximately 400.

This week you are again offered free of charge the leaflet called GROWING OLD GRACEFULLY. After the strenuous year we have gone through a second offering of this subject seems apropos.

You may have it without charge. Just enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Tuesday's recipe will be Corn Sauté, and, for good measure, my own pet recipe: Green Corn Spoon Brea, a truly sum'shush dish!

MARIAN NIXON STARS IN ROLE OF FARM GIRL

Marian Nixon came to the Fox Broadway theater yesterday. As Rebecca in Kate Douglas Wiggin's saga of American girlhood, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," she enacts the outstanding role of her career.

This refreshing production not only gives Miss Nixon unbounded opportunity for dramatic expression, but also introduces Ralph Bellamy in an entirely sympathetic and romantic role, that of the kindly, understanding Dr. Adam Ladd who befriends Rebecca.

Faithful to the stage success, "Rebecca," in its talking picture version, relates the magical adventures and fascinating romance of Rebecca, forcefully told by Alfred Santell's skilled direction. The pictorial beauty of the outdoor settings heightens the charm of this wistful story of Rebecca, who saw beauty in everything despite disappointment, heartaches and disillusionment.

An important supporting cast, headed by Max Marsh and Louise Closser Hale, seen as Rebecca's stern, puritanical New England aunts, includes Sarah Padden, Alan Hale, Alphons Ethier, Ronald Harris, Eula Guy and many others.

'WOMAN IN ROOM 13' STARTS TOMORROW

Divorce, with all its attendant ills and worries, forms the dramatic background for "The Woman in Room 13," Elissa Landi's new Fox drama, opening its local engagement Tuesday at the Fox West Coast theater. Ralph Bellamy as the jealous ex-husband, Neil Hamilton as the devoted new mate, Myrna Loy as the resentful "other woman," and Gilbert Roland as the gay young interloper, will be seen in the chief supporting roles. Henry King directed the production from Guy Bolton's adaptation of the famous stage play.

PLAYING AT FOX BROADWAY

Marion Nixon and Ralph Bellamy in a scene from "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," which opened to an enthusiastic audience at the Fox Broadway theater yesterday.

'SKY DEVILS' AT WALKER STATE

"Sky Devils," which closes tonight at Walker's State theater, is the amusing and impertinent tale of three dare-devil American flyers, who violate every rule of war for a good time. Spills, thrills, court-martials, and Richthofen's flying circus—all are just part of the day's work in the lives of these carefree clowns of the air. The "Sky Devils" are Spencer Tracy, William Boyd and George Cooper, and each gives an outstanding comedy characterization. Their reckless exploits are embellished with romance, some spicy and some sentimental, and this is all ably furnished by Ann Dvorak and Yola D'Avril.

The English government spent $33,000,000 on the unemployed last year.

JOAN BENNETT AT WEST COAST IN NEW FILM

Joan Bennett's recent screen roles have been a series of surprises to those who once believed her wistful charm her chief claim to screen prominence. In "Careless Lady," the youngest Bennett displayed unusual talents for high comedy and then in "The Trial of Vivienne Ware" she proved her fine dramatic abilities. Now she combines all three qualities in "Week Ends Only," her latest Fox Film vehicle, which opened yesterday at the Fox West Coast theater and which, in this viewer's opinion, represent her best work to date. An intriguing, brilliantly-told story of a highly modern romance, the picture affords the charming Joan plenty of opportunities to show her real artistry. It should raise her stock many points on the Hollywood exchange.

Ben Lyon gives a fine performance as the ambitious young artist, with John Halliday as his wealthy rival for Joan's affections. Halliwell Hobbes, Walter Byron, Allan Dinehart and other favorites are in the cast.

The kangaroo jumped round a bit. The Tintines nearly had a fit to see how very startled funny little Copy looked.

"Go on and box," wee Duncy cried. "Smack that old jumper in the side. Don't let your hands hang down like that. Get both your short arms crooked."

"Then you can slip a real punch e'er. That's what the boxing gloves are for. I wish I had them on. I'd show you how real boxing's done."

"You're not supposed to stand real still, 'cause that gives none of us a thrill. Step out and show your stuff and you will have a lot of fun."

"Oh, I know what you want to see. You'd like that beast to sock poor me, but I am much too smart for him. I'm waiting for my chance. Then I will slip a good punch out and show him lots of stars, no doubt. Before this thing is over I will make old kangy dance."

Just then the kangaroo leaped high and Copy took one on the eye. He shouted "Ouch!" and then he said, "This fellow punches hard. I'd like to train him for a while. He'd beat all others I'd make if he was on a boxing card."

Once more the kangaroo swung out. The Tintines then began to shout because Cappy dropped down to the floor. He'd been punched on the chin.

The little fellow sat up quick and said, "That lightning punch was slick. I'm sorry that I had to let that jumping fellow win."

As he was taking off a glove he cried, "There's something that I love." He pointed to a zebra that was running round the place.

"Let's catch him, lads. It will be fun. I wonder if it can be done." The zebra picked up speed and all the lads took up the chase.

Late News From Orange County Communities

WORK STARTED ON PAVING IN BEACH SECTION

NEWPORT BEACH, July 18.—The huge mixers, spreaders and surfacers of the John-Breast company, Los Angeles contractors, who are building the extensions on the sides of the Coast highway and in some places building the full width, were put into operation today near the new bridge crossing the bay midway between the Arches crossing and Corona del Mar, mixing and spreading the hundreds of tons of rock, sand and cement that has been piled up on the grounds near the spot during the past week. A half mile stretch of the road running east from the Arches crossing has already had the forms placed and the heavy steel reinforcing put into position ready to receive the concrete.

The grade between Corona del Mar and Laguna Beach is being rushed to completion and will soon be ready for the concrete, according to company officials.

Several hundred men will be employed in the various operations on the job. Some local labor may be employed when the concrete pouring begins, according to a statement made by one of the company employees in charge of labor.

Harry Comber To Seek Election As Officers' Leader

SAN CLEMENTE, July 18.—Chief of Police Harry Comber, a seventh vice president of the California Municipal and County Motor Vehicle Officers' association, has thrown his hat into the ring for the presidency of the association. Chief Comber will seek election to the office at the state convention which will be held in San Diego September 12 to 15.

DR. MICHAELSON IN TABERNACLE TALK

FULLERTON, July 18.—Dr. A. U. Michaelson, in charge of the Jewish Evangelization society of Los Angeles, working in the Boyle Heights district, brought a plea for Christians to aid in the bringing of Christ to the Jewish people when he talked to a good sized audience at the tabernacle of the Fullerton Protestant churches at Fullerton yesterday afternoon.

He declared that the Jews in America complete a course in the schools, including receiving a university degree, and yet know there is a New Testament, and that no person is given more joy than the Jew when he discovers in the Messiah for whom the orthodox Jew is still praying to come.

Dr. Michaelson is a German Jew, converted in Germany. Before coming to America he was a lawyer and a judge in that country and to the American supreme court.

With him yesterday were several Jews who gave short talks.

Tennis Courts To Be Improved

SAN CLEMENTE, July 18.—Work of improving the San Clemente municipal tennis court will start some time this week. The city council at its last session voted $250 toward laying a new concrete surface on the court near the Social club. The contract was awarded to Dan Mulhern, who donated labor, a private fund, donation of materials and the small amount of the contract, it is estimated that the job when finished will represent at least $600.

The council upon receipt of $1500 from the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric company for a service tax, voted to spend $150 of this sum on the tennis court if the construction of a rest room did not take all of the $1500. The rest room was built for less than $500 so the council voted work to be started on the tennis court when assured that the San Clemente Tennis club would supervise the construction.

C. of C. Protests Road Condition

LAGUNA BEACH, July 18.—Poor conditions of the detours and the condition of the graded roadways, both north and south of the city, where improvements are under way, was the subject of much complaint Friday night at the meeting of the chamber of commerce. C. E. C. Burnett declared cars were making where an effort had been made to lay down dust when he passed over the roadway. On his motion a letter will be sent to S. V. Cortelyou, division engineer, asking that a better effort be made to keep the roadway passable.

A committee, composed of John Jehle, Frank D. Hevener and C. E. C. Burnett was named by Charles Hartwell Smith, acting president, to confer with A. Cavalli, of Santa Ana, on his application for the position of executive secretary of the chamber.

RIGHT USE OF PRAYER CITED IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 18.—The words of Christ, "As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world," in John 17:18, were used as a text for a sermon on "Partners With God," by the Rev. E. Dow Hoffman, new pastor of the Methodist church, speaking to the combined churches of Fullerton at the tabernacle last night.

"Partners With God" are those who do the will of God in serving humanity and those who are used as instruments in God's hands to answer prayers of people," he said, and such answers are more often performed by God than are miracles in performing His work.

The Rev. Mr. Hoffman reviewed "The Man Who Played God" in opening his sermon, and suggested that the picture, played with John Arliss in the leading role, should be seen by everybody.

"Christ declared that 'of my own self I do nothing' and those who are working for God today are dependent on Him to carry out His plans," the Rev. Mr. Hoffman said.

"Guidance comes with answered prayer and although prayer is being attacked by many skeptics today, it is still availing.

"There are several kinds of prayer, the prayer of thanksgiving, of adoration, of request and for forgiveness. Most prayer, however, is for things, and we have no legitimate right to ask for things, except to assist others."

After insisting that Christian workers need to pray for assistance and for assistants in their fields of endeavor, the speaker urged all to pray for Christian idealism and then suggested that the best answer to that prayer is to live lives that are examples to others.

The meeting next Sunday night will be adjourned to meet at the W. C. T. U. rally at Anaheim park, where Mary Harris ARMOR will talk.

AUCTION NEWPORT REFINERY JULY 20

NEWPORT BEACH, July 18.—The plant of the Orange County Refinery company at West Newport will be sold in bankruptcy July 20 at 10 a. m., according to reports received here from Los Angeles. The plant has been closed for some time.

The plant was built several years ago to take care of the low grade oil found in the West Newport section. The refinery was declared a nuisance by a group of Newport citizens, who declared the obnoxious odors came from the plant. A large sum of money was expended by officials of the company in an effort to abate the alleged odors.

SAN CLEMENTE, July 18.—Members of the Orange County Coast association at their meeting at Three Arch Bay Tuesday evening will hear a report of the tax committee given by Mayor Thomas F. Murphy, of San Clemente, chairman. The report will feature the following salient findings of the committee:

There should be a 25 per cent reduction in all expenses of the county, city and school governments.

The 40 cent road tax in Orange county should be eliminated.

There should be economy in the operation of schools.

A move should be started to relieve real estate from its unjust tax burden and a study should be made of a state sales tax.

All cities should stop unnecessary assessment projects. There should be more rigid economy in city government.

Cities in the county should receive a just share of the state gasoline tax money refunded to counties for work on city roads.

YORBA LINDA, July 18.—"Although youth has in a general way measured up to the challenge of a changing order, such failures as have happened can be blamed on the present adult generation rather than on the boys and girls who have not been properly safeguarded," the Rev. Crawford Trotter, pastor of the Methodist church told members of his congregation at the morning service yesterday when he spoke on "The Rising Generation."

The Rev. Mr. Trotter declared that no generation has had to face more intricate and troubling problems than are now confronting the youth of today, and championed their cause, as he pleaded for a consecrated Christianity on the part of adults, a Christianity that is practical in church work and one that will set spiritual values at the highest point.

Announcements included the meeting of the Skyline Boys at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Swain tonight for a barbecue dinner.

The Challenge class will meet tonight to complete plans for a community entertainment at which they hope to have a motion picture projected.

Friday night Hurless Barton's Sunday school class will meet for a watermelon feed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Swain.

"TIMES CHANGE"

Statistics made public last week by the Department of Agriculture reveal that 252,000 more city people left the city to return to farms last year than left the farm for the city. For ten years population changes have been estimated and during seven years of that period annual decreases in farming population were revealed. During 1930 and 1931 gains were indicated. Farm population has been moving to the city in hordes for the past two or three decades. Whether one came to realize the transition from an agricultural to an industrial people through the statistics or visiting in some farm community where all the youngsters had been drawn away by the attractions of the city the conclusion was as unmistakable and conclusive. Now, comparatively speaking "all of a sudden" there is a backward change.

The farmer who has been feeling himself in a sorry plight might turn to read the Atlantic Monthly in order to understand why there is this return at this particular time for the farm. Two authors in that magazine this month write on the subject. The writer of one of the articles describes the experience of herself and her boy when they dropped from a $15,000 a year standard of living in the city of Chicago to a nine hundred dollar standard in a small Vermont town. Her new mode of life would never keep the civilization standards of the United States alive but she frankly weighs the advantages and the disadvantages in her new mode of life as compared to the former. There are debits and credits and among the credits in the new mode are more time, freedom from economic worry, and a knowledge that with dignity and pleasure they could live within a limited income. The writer of the second article speaks of "subsistence farming." And that is the secret of the "back to the soil" movement. There may be little or no cash income on a farm but the city folks know even better than the farmer that on the farm there is food and shelter.

The demand for property which will permit "subsistence farming" is increasing. It is an interesting phenomena. If the migration continues to grow it will amount to a revolution—a revolution in mode of life.

People can subsist on the farm so long as they can pay the taxes which enable them to remain there and for a while the novelty of the quiet rural life will seem just as attractive in its way as the easy life in the city was. In fact, in this distressful period it appears so attractive that we underestimate the advantages of our urban civilization which reached a climax where the busy rush was made possible by astonishing conveniences and comforts. Now we often hear tired and discouraged people say, "Why all this struggle? Whether have we been going, anyhow?" But in better days when we thought about it all we knew that we were passing through as many experiences, contacting as many people and things, living as fully in one lifetime as people several hundred years ago would have lived in several lifetimes. Philosophers can dispute for eons about the advantages and disadvantages of high-tension living, but the fact remains that it was and is quite nice to be seldom bored and to live comfortably. Possibly from this "back to the soil" movement there will emerge a wedding of the two modes of life which will bring forth a new civilization more wholesome than the recent period with its concentration on technological development which resulted in rather hectic living. This new trend may inject a dignity and tranquility and at the same time hold fast to the comforts and advantages of the industrial age.

CANADA'S TROUBLESOME DOUKHOBORS

Some years ago, when Canada was seeking desirable immigrants to settle her Western lands, she invited a group of religious zealots called the Doukhobors, who were being persecuted by the Czar's government in Russia, to come over. They were a good people, but they had some very grave peculiarities. They objected to paying taxes, except as those taxes were used to pay obligations to carry on the vocations of peace. When the government used forcible measures to collect taxes, they took the peculiar way of offering passive resistance by going about naked, which of course could not be countenanced. Then the difficulty arose as to what to do with them. Burke once said that it was impossible to bring an indictment against a whole people. Just as difficult is it to throw a whole region's population in jail. The jails are not numerous enough or big enough.

The Canadian government has been having another tussle with these people during the past few months. They have gone again on the naked way path, and the authorities are up a stump to know what to do about it. They cannot be deported, because many of them were born in Canada. They cannot, as we have pointed out, be put in jail. In fact, it is difficult to deal with fanatics who persist in carrying on practices which are intolerable or obnoxious to those who set much store by conventional standards. It is impossible to reason with men who have a conscience on a given matter, and who will suffer rather than yield on such a matter of conscience. Even good people under such circumstances may become a common nuisance.

Perhaps the only way out is to put them on reservations like our Indians, see that they are far enough away from people to whom their practices are offensive, and let them work out their problems in their own way. It may be that the realities of the situation will impress them with the positive irrationality of their system, and that they may learn that goodness and fanaticism sometimes prove to be contradictions. It is easy, comparatively, to club fighting groups into obedience. But what can be done with people who just sit down passively, as the Gandhi followers in India, and these people who accepted the hospitality of Canada a generation ago? Fortunately, it is not our problem. It might stump us, too.

THE POLITICAL INTEREST CENTERS ON PROHIBITION

There is one thing that is very apparent in regard to the prohibition issue. The definite program which the liquor crowd carried out just prior to the national conventions, plus the national conventions themselves, has aroused the prohibition people of this country as nothing has since the days before the amendment was adopted. Something just like that was needed to get the indignation of the friends of prohibition heated to the fighting point. We have been now at no fewer than half a dozen meetings in the interest of prohibition within the past two weeks, and there is a larger attendance, more interest shown, more enthusiasm manifested on this cause than we have seen for more than a decade. At one meeting 2000 people were there. Right here in Santa Ana last Friday night the main auditorium of the Methodist church was filled to capacity, with some standing, and many in the gallery, to listen to a prohibition address. And in spite of the fact that an interesting meeting was being conducted by politicians of the county, some candidates chose the prohibition meeting, or left the political meeting to come to the prohibition address, so great did they realize the interest was in this question.

We can see there is promise of some surprises in the voting this fall throughout the country. The liquor crowd may have the money to carry on such a campaign as they are carrying on, but it will be found that in great sections of our country those who are in favor of any partnership between the government and liquor manufacturers in the crime of drunkard-making will be repudiated by a great vote.

Detours and Bonds

The San Diego Union

"The roads to San Diego are in terrible shape." Hotel clerks in Los Angeles are doubtless rehearsing this line now, in preparation for the Olympic Games season. The line is evidently expected to be very, very useful. If the Olympic throngs spend any money in San Diego, it will be over the mutely protesting corpses of half of Los Angeles.

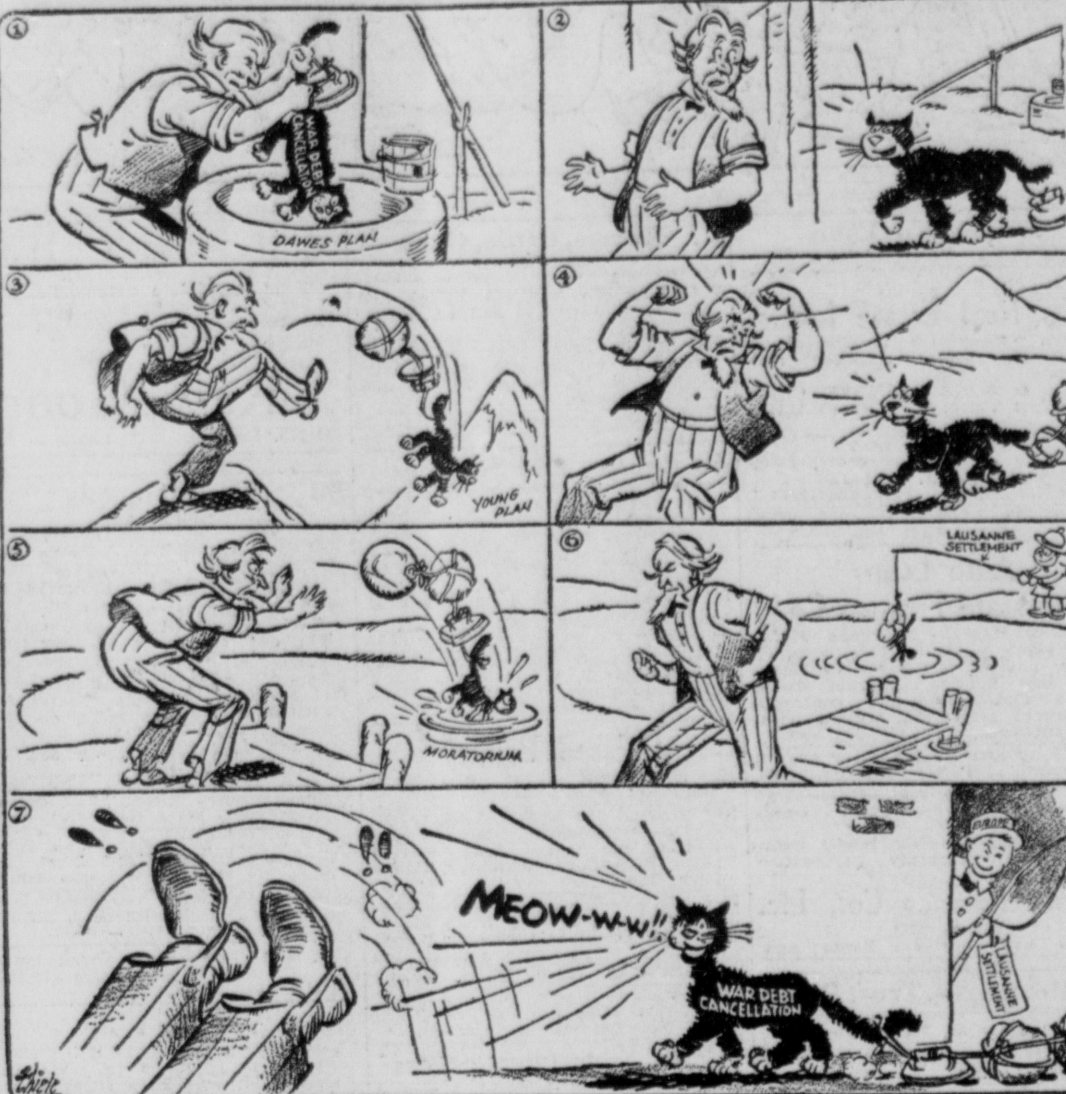

Among precautions taken against giving San Diego a break this season, our emissaries inform us, is an ambitious scheme to surround our fair city with highway detours. Fifteen miles or so of dust, ruts and general confusion stand between San Diego and the motorist who would like to run down from Los Angeles for a visit. Similar obstacles are now manfully maintained on the highway in from Imperial Valley.

Instead of offering the San Diego trip as a pleasant diversion for the tourist visiting Los Angeles for the Games, the powers that be have turned the trip into a gruelling test of endurance for car, man and beast. The next step will be to recognize it as a sports event, and include it in the Olympic program along with the 3000-metre steepclimb and the marathon.

Why should San Diego be asked to concede from the state whenever California has reason to expect a pleasant and profitable tourist season? That question ought to be asked of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, the eminent directors of the Olympic Games, the state highway commission and the governor of the state.

California put up $1,000,000 to aid in promotion of the Games, and San Diego taxpayers will pay their pro rata share of this big subsidy. If there are to be a dozen detours between San Diego and the Olympic Games, how about establishing a couple of detours between San Diego and the pay-off on these Olympic Bonds?

The Old Cat That Refuses to Stay Put!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A SONG OF CHEER

When Noah sailed the raging tide
For thirty days together,
He could not see, on any side,
A sign of better weather.
He thought the wide expense of wet
His vessel sailed amid
Would nevermore abate, and yet
It did.
Inside a fortnight, safe and sound,
The ark reposed on solid ground.

When nearly all the fighting folk
Of Western Asian regions
Were bowed beneath the bitter yoke
Of Alexander's legions,
They thought attempts to break the thrall
Must ever futile be,
Yet presently they one and all
Got free.
They walked one glorious summer dawn
And found the pesky Greeks were gone.

So let us smile a hopeful smile,
As Eddie Guest would bid us;
The pessimists cannot beguile,
The croakers cannot kid us.
To quote the merry minstrel men
Who sang in days of yore,
Good times are givine to come again
Once more.
We'd seek the rainbow quite in vain
If there were never any rain.

No system of government will work if citizens can't. If Roosevelt is planning his Cabinet, the forgotten man probably is Al. Heaven must think men are hard up all the time. They always are when it hears from them. Mr. Hoover's strength, so amazing to his physicians, comes of tossing the medicine ball and upholding the tariff. Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE FOUR HORSEMEN OF POLITICS

I was among the weary but wondering thousands who stuck out the famous all night session of the National Democratic Convention in Chicago Stadium.

It was like a vast moving picture in which trick photography makes shadowy figures of symbolic significance super-impose themselves on the figures of the actual men and women moving about on the screen.

I knew most of the leading figures of the convention as they moved up and down the aisles during the long watches and longer speeches of the night. I chatted with them from time to time as they passed the box in which my wife and I were sitting or as we met them in the lobbies surrounding the seating.

But up and down the aisles in shadowy symbolism I saw the Four Horsemen of the Political Apocalypse, and it was them, rather than any human leaders, that rode the convention to its conclusion.

Those Four Horsemen of the Political Apocalypse were:

- (1) Hysteria.
- (2) Fatigue.

(3) Boredom.
(4) Bargaining.
And I suspect these four were more apparent to the listener at the radio than to those of us who were on the scene.

We like to think of delegates as our responsible representatives wrestling realistically with issues and men on the floor of the convention.

Actually that vast mass of delegates was worn down by an all-night vigil, and then sent to their hotels to sleep, while equally fatigued bosses "swapped horses" and set the stage for the finale the next night.

I am quite aware that history in the making and history in the writing are different matters.

I am quite aware that Lord Morley was right in defining politics as the science of the second best.

But one cannot help wishing that, particularly in so critical an hour in the nation's life, national conventions might be more dignified and his interested ventures in statesmanlike wrestling with issues.

COUNTRY MANNERS

I hope that the children, and the grownups, too, who go to the country this summer will remember to pack their manners along with their knickers and sweaters. We country folk are sensitive about some things and we appreciate good manners and courtesies when we meet them. We are quite as likely to be offended by bad manners as actions as city folk. We can't for the life of us see why they should save up their bad manners for us.

For example, who would think of walking into a suburban garden or a city back yard, take possession of it, spread out his lunch, invite his family to make merry, and rise and go his way without even saying, "Thank you," or picking up his basketful of fragments? Nobody, of course. But many bodies, and quite as a matter of course, step into gardens and fields in the country and make themselves discourteously at home.

I remember the day a family drove their car through a field of blossoming buckwheat, came to rest in the middle of it, and proceeded to lay it low. The children raced through it and played it was the sea. They rolled in it and played it was a bed of flowers and played for their enjoyment. Until the owner appeared in wrath. Then they gazed at him in open-eyed amazement. "We didn't do anything to your field. Broke down the grass. It will grow again. You needn't be so fussy about a little thing like that."

Of course, they did not know how much a field of buckwheat cost in terms of time and money and hope and need. They might have, had they carried their manners along with them, but you see this was the country and in the country everything is free and open and go as you please.

Uncle Sam Croyle went down the meadow to bring in the calf, leaving his kettle boiling on the stove and the table set for tea. He and the cat and the dog always had the evening meal together. When he came back after putting his kettle in her crib for the night he found a group of people on his porch. They were having tea. "Good evening," said he. "Good evening," said the gentlemen with his mouth full of sandwich. "do you live here?" We found your door open and the kettle boiling so we made ourselves at home. We thought whoever owned the house wouldn't mind so we took the hot water for our tea. Have you got any butter? We forgot ours."

TODAY IS THE WORLD WAR ANNIVERSARY

ALLIED DRIVE BEGINS

On July 18, 1918, French and American troops launched a terrific counter-attack against the onrushing German forces on a front of nearly 30 miles. Their gain was as much as six miles. The attack, made without artillery preparation, took the Germans completely by surprise and they were thrown back in considerable confusion. Several villages and thousands of prisoners were taken in the day's fighting.

It marked the beginning of the first major Allied offensive in more than a year.

American army officers estimated German casualties for the day at more than 20,000, of which 5000 were prisoners. British troops in Picardy also resumed the offensive, advancing more than a mile in a much smaller operation.
